"Give me a theme," the little poet cried,
"and I will do my part."

Gilder

A theme for the annual
What can it be?
No theme for the annual; a calamity!

We thought of this;
We worked on that,
But somehow our ideas always fell flat.

At last we found it
For as you see,
Thoughts are expressed best in POETRY!

"Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Matthew 25:21

As the years of our high school days passed so quickly and we faced the thought of graduation, our minds wandered back with appreciation and gratitude to those whose patience and wisdom guided us through. In our thoughts, one man is especially outstanding. He, present through all of our years, guided and helped all whom he possibly could, always with a smile.

In seeking a teaching career in a new location, we wish him the very best of luck. We, the annual staff of MHS, dedicate our 1954 annual as a humble token of our gratitude to Mr. Memmer, our principal--a friend to whom we shall forever be grateful.

HOMECOMING ROYALTY: Jim Quist and Reda Rae Halseth

The school year is done,
And we have had fun
At parties and socials galore.

Our spirits take wings,
As we review the things
Which memory prints evermore.

The Holiday Hop
With its formal be-bop,
The banquet from Paris so gay.

The Spinister Dance
Where girls have a chance
To prove that they too can pay.

The Follies flashed by;
The Spring Prom drew nigh,
Then passed in its splendor, too soon.

Yes, the school year is o'er,
But we traverse once more
Those months from September to June.

Ardis Chapman

"What is the worth of anything,

Hungry Centralites filled to capacity the Community Room of the Court House for their annual Homecoming banquet. The banquet was concluded by humorous entertainment led by Jerry Lammers. With full stomachs, MHSites advanced to the school auditorium to hear master of ceremonies Don Smith proclaim to the cheers of the public, "1953 KING AND QUEEN--JIM QUIST AND REDA RAE HALSETH." A vigorous body of students, led by the band and the Royalty, paraded to the raging bonfire. Enthusiastic cheerleaders led vigorous yells of "MHS...let's go" and "We must win." "Loyalty" echoed through the streets of Madison. The traditional snake dance was followed by a movie at the Lyric Theater, ending a memorable first day of Homecoming.

The Homecoming theme, CINERAMA, prompted crowds to Egan Avenue to see the spectacular parade, lead by the band and the CINERAMA KING AND QUEEN. Diligent work was rewarded by a prize for the best floats. MHS Bulldogs fought to the finish to the bolsterous cheers of excited boosters. Madison couldn't edge the Watertown Arrows and was downed by a score of 19 to 6. The regal King and Queen ended their regime by attending the Cinerama dance held in their honor at the armory.

This is a comedy. Really!!!

Ghosts haunted the M. H. S. School Auditorium as the Juniors presented their annual class play on November 21 and 22, 1953. Both casts gave excellent performances in Samuel French's Lo and Behold directed by Richard Lippke.

This is a comedy about a Nobel Prize Winner Author (Jerome Lammers) who has lived on a diet for many years to favor an ailing heart. After signing a will that leaves a third of his estate to his young doctor (Don Smith), a third to perpetuate his house for his spirit to haunt, and a third to Harvard Law School, he eats a scrumptious meal and dies happily.

Instead of solitude he is beset by the spirits of an Indian maiden, pushed over a cliff by her lover, (Donna Larson and Donna Frager) a Southern belle with a disturbing drawl (Ramona Schinderling and Janice Hallowell), and a frustrated composer (Lynell Olson).

As if this weren't enough to annoy his soul, the pretty cook (Penny Gumz and Gayle Arneson) who prepared the fatal dishes returns to the house and is mistaken for his daughter. The author soon finds peace in furthering a romance between the doctor and the imposter.

1. Milo: Do you all intend to remain—regardless of how I feel about the matter?
2. Bob: "Morals For Morons." What do you think of the book?
3. Daisy: If you kill him—then you gotta kill me at the same time.
4. Lo And Behold! All's well, that ends well!

Once again the "old old story" yet ever new was presented December 15, at MHS auditorium by the Vocal Department. The events of the first Christmas were brought to mind through music, scripture and pantomime. The glee clubs and chorus, under direction of Miss Schroeder, presented the music, while Mary Nettum directed the Christmas play.

Mother, Martha Schrantz, reads the Christmas story to her son, Rodney Hallowell. "Fear not; for, behold I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people."

W. V. Wiedenman presents to Don Smith, Junior Class President, the Elks award for the prize-winning skit.

Senior Class Skit: "Follies of 1954"

This year's Senior Class succeeded in reviving the famous "Ziegfield Follies" theme. Hayriders, soloists, dancing "Continental", and singing sailors, did a commendable job performing before a group of night-clubbers. Pictured are the dancing "Continental", Cleone and Sandra Weber.

2. Junior Class Skit: "H'ah Noon"

Desperados haunted MHS auditorium in "H'ah Noon". Juniors received the applause of the public as they presented the academy award winning movie. Fearless Marshall Kane stands up against killers, hoodlums, and most of all--Killer Diller Miller. Pictured left to right are: J. Hall, R. Terwilliger, G. Pierson and W. Staley.

3. Sophomore Class Skit: "Cinderella"

This most famous fairy tale was modernized, and featured a "dahlin" godmother, an ex-baseball king, movie stars, and two "bigger than ever" mice. Pictured left to right: N. Limmer, V. Johannsen, T. Keough, W. Hines, R. Beuhler, M. Berkelo, R. Appelwick, S. Hope.

4. Freshman Class Skit: "Sorry Wrong Number"

"What can we have for our skit?" Completely without new and different ideas, the "little" Freshman pondered and slaved. The result? A skit similar in parts to the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior skits. Coincidental, of course, but filled with moments of laughter. This was a novel idea! Pictured left to right: D. Schultz, V. Gregerson, R. Weber, R. Hallowell, G. Von Behren.

Presenting BOB BAGLEY AND SHERLEEN MUGGLY, King and Queen of the 1954 Classcapades.

The second annual "Classcapades" was held February 19, at M. H. S. auditorium and the city armory. Measured in terms of laughter, enjoyment, and net proceeds, the Classcapades of '54 was successful in every way.

1. That "Dixie" style of twirling. Twirlers are: J. Rundle, M. Wilde.

2. The four "Singing Lads" with their version of "I Believe." Pictured left to right are: T. Cross, M. Poppen, R. Terwilliger, M. Jensen.

3. Mary Nettum interviews her prospective son-in-law, Carl Trooien.

4. Jeanette Neumann presents her "Accordian Capers."

5. Sharron Whaley demonstrates her own twirling routine.

ANNUAL SIGNING PARTY

"A little nonsense now and then,

The Annual Signing Party was held on August 31, the first day of school last fall. Annuals were distributed and then signed.

HOLIDAY HOP

"Snowball" was the theme chosen by the Senior Horizon Club for the Holiday Hop, held on December 28. The Collegiates from State College furnished music for the dancing.

FRESHMEN INITIATION

The "individuals" at the left are freshmen as they appeared at the initiation party. The party was held in the armory and sponsored by the Sophomore class.

"I've got fifty! Who'll give me sixty?" The familiar cry of the auctioneer was heard at MHS as the Student Council conducted its annual auction to raise funds for the Polio Drive. Auctioneers for the event were Wayne Olson, Bob Hall, Dick Elmore, and other members of the Student Council working as clerks.

1. Swearing-in ceremony.
2. Garbage collector--Shirley Vander Goore.
3. Electrical superIntendent--Merwin Greene.
4. Commissioners meeting.
5. Concluding banquet.
6. Treasurer--Carol Riedel.
Deputy treasurer--Sandra Weber.
7. Fire chief--Dick Welch.

The fourth annual Student Government Day, April 27, began with the swearing-in of the officials during the morning assembly, after which the students took over their civic duties. At the conclusion of the day's activities, the American Legion, which sponsored the event, presented a banquet at Tomscha's with Judge Hanson from Howard as the guest speaker.

"Come and trip it as you go,

Paris was once again the center of attraction as the juniors and seniors flocked to the annual banquet presented for them by the junior class on May 8. "An Evening in Paris" was the chosen theme, which was made remarkably realistic by appropriate decorations and entertainment. The banquet was held at the St. John's Lutheran Church and welcomes and responses were given by junior and senior representatives respectively. The main address by Mr. Englehorn, and other Parisian entertainment was presented. After the banquet, the remainder of the evening was spent dancing at the Country Club.

1. Decorations, including the Eiffel Tower, carry out the Parisian theme.
2. Sophomore waiters serve the honorable madames, mademoiselles and monsieurs at the speakers' table.
3. Delicious foods and favorable surroundings make the "Evening in Paris" an enjoyable one.
4. Toastmaster, Jerry Lammers, adds a touch of humor as he introduces the speakers.
5. Mr. Engelhorn, main speaker, describes "Gay Paris" as it is seen from the air.

1. A touch of French genius is added to the gala event by Mr. Lippke.
2. Roy Terwilliger expresses the feelings of the entire group as he sings "I Love Paris".
3. Four lovely lasses sing of one "Mamselle".
4. Wining, dining, and dancing!
5. Soft music and the dreamy French atmosphere attract the dancing couples.
6. Just like waltzing on the French Riviera.

"I've taken my fun where I've found it!"

Kipling

With a full schedule ahead of them, this year's seniors set off for Sioux Falls on April 28, for their annual skip day. First event for the early-risers was a conducted tour through the S. D. State Penitentiary. From this interesting site, they proceeded to the YMCA, where some spent a few hours swimming, bowling, and dancing and others toured the Crippled Children's Home. Next on the list was another tour through the newly-constructed Argus-Leader Building, where they saw the huge presses rolling. Their tours finished, the students hustled about town, shopping, eating, and finally attending an evening movie. After the movie, it was "Home-ward Ho" for the tired but well satisfied group.

1. Interested spectators on a tour through the Argus-Leader Building.
2. "Gee, how does this one work?"
3. We may not be the best, but it's sure fun trying.
4. Eat, drink and be merry!
5. Water, water everywhere!

Activities

Mr. Englehorn, Coach; M. Poppen and J. Quist, Co-captains; Mr. Kellar, Coach.

Activities in this here school
Are energetic as a rule;
The things that make 'em that-a-way
Are found in every passing day.

The interest--'tain't so bad at all.
And when kid's grades begin to fall
Activities they gets the blame.
The real cause puts 'em all to shame.

Activities relieve the strain
Of boredom from a studyin' brain;
And with this here much-needed rest
A student does his mortal best.

Activities in this here school
Are necessary as a rule.
They give each day that added thing
But don't compare at all with spring.

At the beginning of the third week in August fifty some boys turned out on the gridiron. Most of them were pretty "green"; in fact a couple of the boys were of the opinion that you had to jump over the goal posts to get the point after touch down.

After three weeks of grueling practice coach had the boys fired up for the first game. He had drummed into them all the knowledge he could, but you can't learn all about football by listening and practicing; you have to get into the thick of action to experience the pressure and excitement. That's how the season started.

The team wasn't too successful about piling up points, but more important, they succeeded in piling up sportsmanship, spirit, and experience. This courage, spirit, and experience will pull the team through in top shape next year. Of the fifty some boys that turned out in the fall, thirty some men were left at the end of the season.

"Shoot 'em high, shoot 'em low, come on team let's go!" Cheers rang as the Centralites cheered their team on to victory.

This year Coach Kellar and his Bulldogs weren't expected to make a good showing, but they surprised and pleased everyone by winning the sectional, and placing sixth in the "A" tournament.

The "B" team, under the direction of Coach Englehorn, ended the season with a fine record, winning 15 out of 18 games. With such a showing this year, the prospects for next year are good.

With the fine support of the student body, the MHS cheerleaders again experienced a successful year. The cheerleaders were instrumental in arranging the homecoming pep meeting, bonfire, and the snake dance. Under their leadership, the pep meetings have been snappy, fast moving, and entertaining. The grand finale came when they had the opportunity, for the first time in many years, to support a State "A" tournament team.

With all the stars of the 1953 season graduated, the Bulldogs started a season of rebuilding in track. Jim Quist, Jerry Lammers, Dick Welch, Gary Pierson, Doug O'Connell, and Bob Nangle formed the nucleus of a green team. Maurice Poppen and Bob Bagley along with Roy Terwilliger, Bob Rumrill, Bill Mosher, Bob Weber and Joe Hof developed into a very fine track squad as the season progressed.

CO-CAPTAINS

J. Hof, D. O'Connell

The Bulldogs won the Madison Invitational with ease, and then ran into tough competition at the Corn Palace, Pierre, Sioux City, and Dakota Relays. Sioux Falls defeated the Bulldogs in the only dual meet in history between the two schools. The Bulldogs made their best showing of the season at the region meet in Vermillion when they scored 77 points only to run second to Sioux Falls who scored 98 points. On May 12 the track squad competed at Worthington for the first time. Although the track was in poor shape, the thinclads made an excellent showing. Maurice Poppen in the pole vault and Wayne Trousdale in the high jump were the only places scored in the State meet at Huron.

Three new school records were set this year. Wayne Trousdale high jumped 5'8 3/4" at Pierre, Maurice Poppen vaulted 10'10" at the State meet, and Gary Pierson and Jerry Lammers ran the 880 in 2:07.5 at the Region meet. Gary was declared the winner, but both times were identical so both names are being entered in the record book.

Where words failed to speak in MHS, the music department, under the direction of Miss Schroeder, spoke. The winter months found them busy practicing for the annual Christmas Pageant. During the spring the halls of MHS were filled with music as the Vocal Department prepared for the music contest April 8 and 9, where the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs received a superior rating and the Chorus an excellent. To end their school term, the vocal department sang at Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

In addition to the Christmas program and contest singing, various small groups of the music department rendered selections for business men's clubs, church organizations, and various women's clubs.

MHS experienced another successful declamation season this year as they won top honors at the state contest for the second consecutive year.

Declam this year, open to all students, has been under the supervision of Mr. Lippke and Mr. Murphy.

The four senior girls pictured above, Martha, Mary, Shirley and Sybil, who were the winners of MHS local declam contest November 2, entered the district contest held at General Beadle College, November 16. Mary, Shirley and Sybil, receiving superior ratings, were eligible to compete in the regional contest. Winning superiors at the regional, Mary and Shirley entered the state declam contest where Shirley placed superior and Mary excellent.

The MHS Band began another winning season with a trip to the Black Hills for the VFW Convention in June. Rooms in the Spearfish school house were converted into dormitories which accommodated the 60 musicians and their chaperones. Along with the concerts at the Veterans' Hospital at Ft. Meade and the TB Sanitarium at Sanator, the band entertained crowds in Rapid City during the arrival of President Eisenhower. They won first in band competition at the convention.

Maestro Ireland's band won, for their fourth year, the trophy from the State Legion Convention in Mitchell. Chaperones and the band stayed at school houses.

Band members took over the pumps and car washing service at Pirwitz' filling station to help pay for the Minneapolis Acquaternial trip. Winning first place--for the second consecutive year--over 25 bands at the thrilling event, our local band was the only one appearing in the Aqua Star Night program at Parade Stadium before a crowd of thousands. The music makers and chaperones also attended the beautiful Aqua Follies show. Tired but happy, the Aqua winners were welcomed home by crowds of people and signs of "Welcome!" and "On to Milwaukee!"

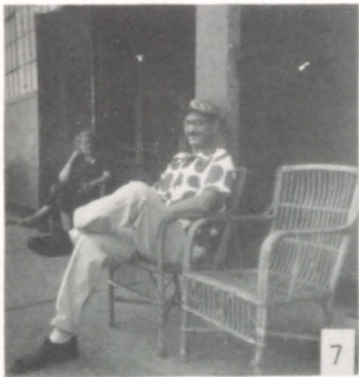

A long train trip to Milwaukee preceded the tough military inspection, two concert presentations, a 4½ hour parade and a very welcomed second place trophy among 14 bands at the National VFW Contest. Staying at Milwaukee's Fair Grounds, bandsters were a long way from the rest of the convention, but chartered buses solved this problem. Members and chaperones shopped, attended ball games and shows.

"We are the future homemakers of America. Our vision is eight-fold and world-wide". This organization is a group of young women learning for a better tomorrow. Their project this year was to help the crippled children at the Sioux Falls Crippled Childrens Hospital. Every year a state convention is held to gain understanding of how to be a better family member; to gain ideas for planning better programs for each FHA chapter during the year; to learn more about the organization; to increase interest in the association; to plan, share ideas, and play together.

"News, old news, and such news

It was a typical pre-deadline day for the Maroon staff. Business Manager Bob Porter, with the assistance of Advisor Gordon Aadland, was trying to raise funds to finance the next edition.

The sports staff was out digging up some sports news as Bob Appelwick and Sports Editor Pat Regan wielded the shovels and Wayne Hines and Larry Cross handled the treasure.

Feature Writers Dana Grimstvedt and Ardis Chapman are exploring every possibility in searching for a really good feature story.

In the office, the co-editors were practicing new ways to growl at the reporters. Then Sylvia Fader decided it was time to give some thought to the make-up department. Suddenly Lorna Swift got a scoop over the telephone! The school safe was being robbed!

The wheels of journalism machinery began to move. Within seconds, News Editor Gayle Arneson had her reporters, notebooks, and pencils ready and toeing the line, prepared to go after the story. Janice Hallowell, Rosemarie Allen, and Marlene Berkelo lined up in front, and Nancy Von Behren and Ruth Limmer were crouching behind.

Already on the scene, catching the culprits at the heinous crime, was alert Staff Photographer Carl Troolen. While Columnist Bob (The Rat) Hall sees what a can opener can do. Feature Editor Martha Schrantz asked the Inquiring Reporter question of the week of Cartoonist Dirty Dick Elmore: "What do you think of people who ask you questions while you are working?"

And another smash issue went to press.

Pity the poor students

Pity the poor students.

Show teachers no pity

The school board makes the wheels of MHS turn. The board consists of local men and women who, aside from their families and occupations, find time to devote for the betterment of our city schools. People such as this are making a better standard in the world for the youth. Through their hard work, they are contributing to the advancement of our essential education. For their efforts, the students of MHS express their appreciation to the group.

The students of Central High School have compiled a wonderful record of past events--a compilation of all the happenings of an exciting year, such as tournaments, contests, hours of study, examinations, and finally the day of reckoning--commencement. From such experiences of the past, we gather knowledge or "know how" to meet the battles of the future. As you look back from year to year, you will understand the whys and wherefores of the requirements of Central High School--that is, you will understand that all of the requirements were intended to help you lead a better and more useful life in years to come.

Please remember that it is not what you do that is important, but how you do it that counts--that is, all work that is honest is honorable work.

Mr. Thompson

D. A. R.--Shirley Wiegman

The D. A. R. representative is chosen every year on the basis of outstanding leadership, sportsmanship, scholastic ability and character. Shirley was also the county D. A. R. winner.

Representatives of Girls' State--Penny Gumz and Gayle Arneson.

The representatives, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, attended Girls' State at Dakota Wesleyan College in Mitchell where they were taught the principles of city, county, and state government. Besides campaigns and elections, they had recreation and receptions.

The annual Boy Staters, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, met at the Northern State Teachers College for the purpose of learning to run a mythical state government.

In addition to regular recreation, they attended a traditional baseball game, spent an evening in town, and attended a banquet where the governor of South Dakota gave the address.

4. William Campbell, Ardis Chapman, Doris McLain, and Martha Schrantz accept Certificates of Scholastic Recognition from State College.

5. Highest scholastic honor, the valedictory award, is presented to Doris McLain by Principal Memmer.

6. Principal Memmer congratulates Ardis Chapman, salutatorian of the class. Ardis also received the Good Citizenship Award sponsored by the American Legion.

7. George McCracken, on behalf of the Disabled American Veterans, presents the award to an outstanding speech student, Shirley Wiegman.

8. William Bulfer, representing the Madison Rotary Club, presents a Beadle scholarship to Shirley Vander Goore.

1. Mr. Memmer presents Ardis Chapman and Dwight Pierson with the Babe Ruth Good Sportsmanship Award and the Danforth Leadership Award.

2. James Mullaney and Ronald Robson recognized by University of South Dakota for their high rating on the state-wide test for seniors.

"This is the end of a perfect day,

May 23, 1954 found the seniors solemnly and proudly marching into the MHS Auditorium. As they took their places among their fellow classmates, memories of the past four years passed through their minds. Then the service began. Rev. H. Hottman delivered the message on "The Latest Edition." The vocal department, under the direction of Miss Schroeder, sang, "To Thee We Sing", "Deep River", and "Seven Fold Amen."

Dr. Henry Hottman, minister of the Methodist Church, delivers the Baccalaureate address.

And the end of a journey too."
