To You, We Present

On behalf of the Annual Staff, Jane and Joan Johnson Co-editors, present to YOU, the administration and students, your 1956 Annual.

In this your annual we have tried to picture the highlights of Central High School. Annuals, in a sense, might be called pictorial history books. In years to come when reminiscing with friends, we hope you find as much enjoyment in reading it as we have found in compiling it.

The Hour Is Ours

Wayne Hines
President

The Student Council, representatives from each class, has many varied tasks in handling school affairs. After many hours of toilsome work on the planning of Homecoming activities and the All-School Play the Council still found time for merriment in taking charge of the worthwhile Polio Auction. Another phase of the Student Council is designating social hours to the various activities and organizations.

Elected as Student Body President by his fellow schoolmates in the spring of 1955, Wayne Hines has made a fine showing in representing the student body. Some of his major tasks were giving a student welcome at Parents' Night and representing the student body at eighth grade graduation.

1. The library of MHS holds an important place in the lives of the students. They use the library for reference work, recreational reading, and, last but not least, to relax and play an interesting game of chess.
2. Entertaining one of the teachers at a formal dinner is a part of Home Economics II. Also planning and sewing a new spring outfit is an essential part of the home economics class.
3. Working at the board, the algebra students have a clearer understanding of their math problems.

4. Miss Krogmann opens the discussion of social and economic problems in the problems in democracy class. The class also studies the problems of our federal, state, and municipal governments.
5. During a five-minute timing, the typing class students are trying to obtain their highest speed. Through speed, accuracy, and office and personal problems, the students prepare for their future work.
6. Escaping to the "out-of-doors," the art class enjoys sketching the spring scenery.

And

A Little of That!

1. Using the knowledge they have acquired from their books and lectures, the biology students turn to dissecting as part of their class work.

2. Student guidance is an essential part of Mr. Engelhorn's work as principal.

3. A recent innovation at Central High School is the chess tournament.

4. Members of the vocal group receive their criticisms and ratings from the judge.

5. One of the many projects of the physics class this year was building and wiring miniature homes.

6. Students of the shop class are using their skill to build small tables and cabinets.

7. Accepting a farewell gift from the boys' home economics class, Miss Van Overschelde smiles with appreciation.

Taken by Surprise

1

"In the spring, a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love." Some students do not wait until spring.

2

Taken by surprise, Don Bogue and many other students have had the experience of a shower from the second floor fountain. Could that be why the seniors decided to give the school a drinking fountain?

3

Is this your locker? This view, typical of many lockers, indicates that a general housecleaning job is in order.

4

A few of this year's fads at Central High are pictured below in the triangle of slim skirts, hoop skirts, and blue jeans.

5

Dorothy Glatz's appreciative smile, portrays the students' reaction to the shots received during the school year.

6

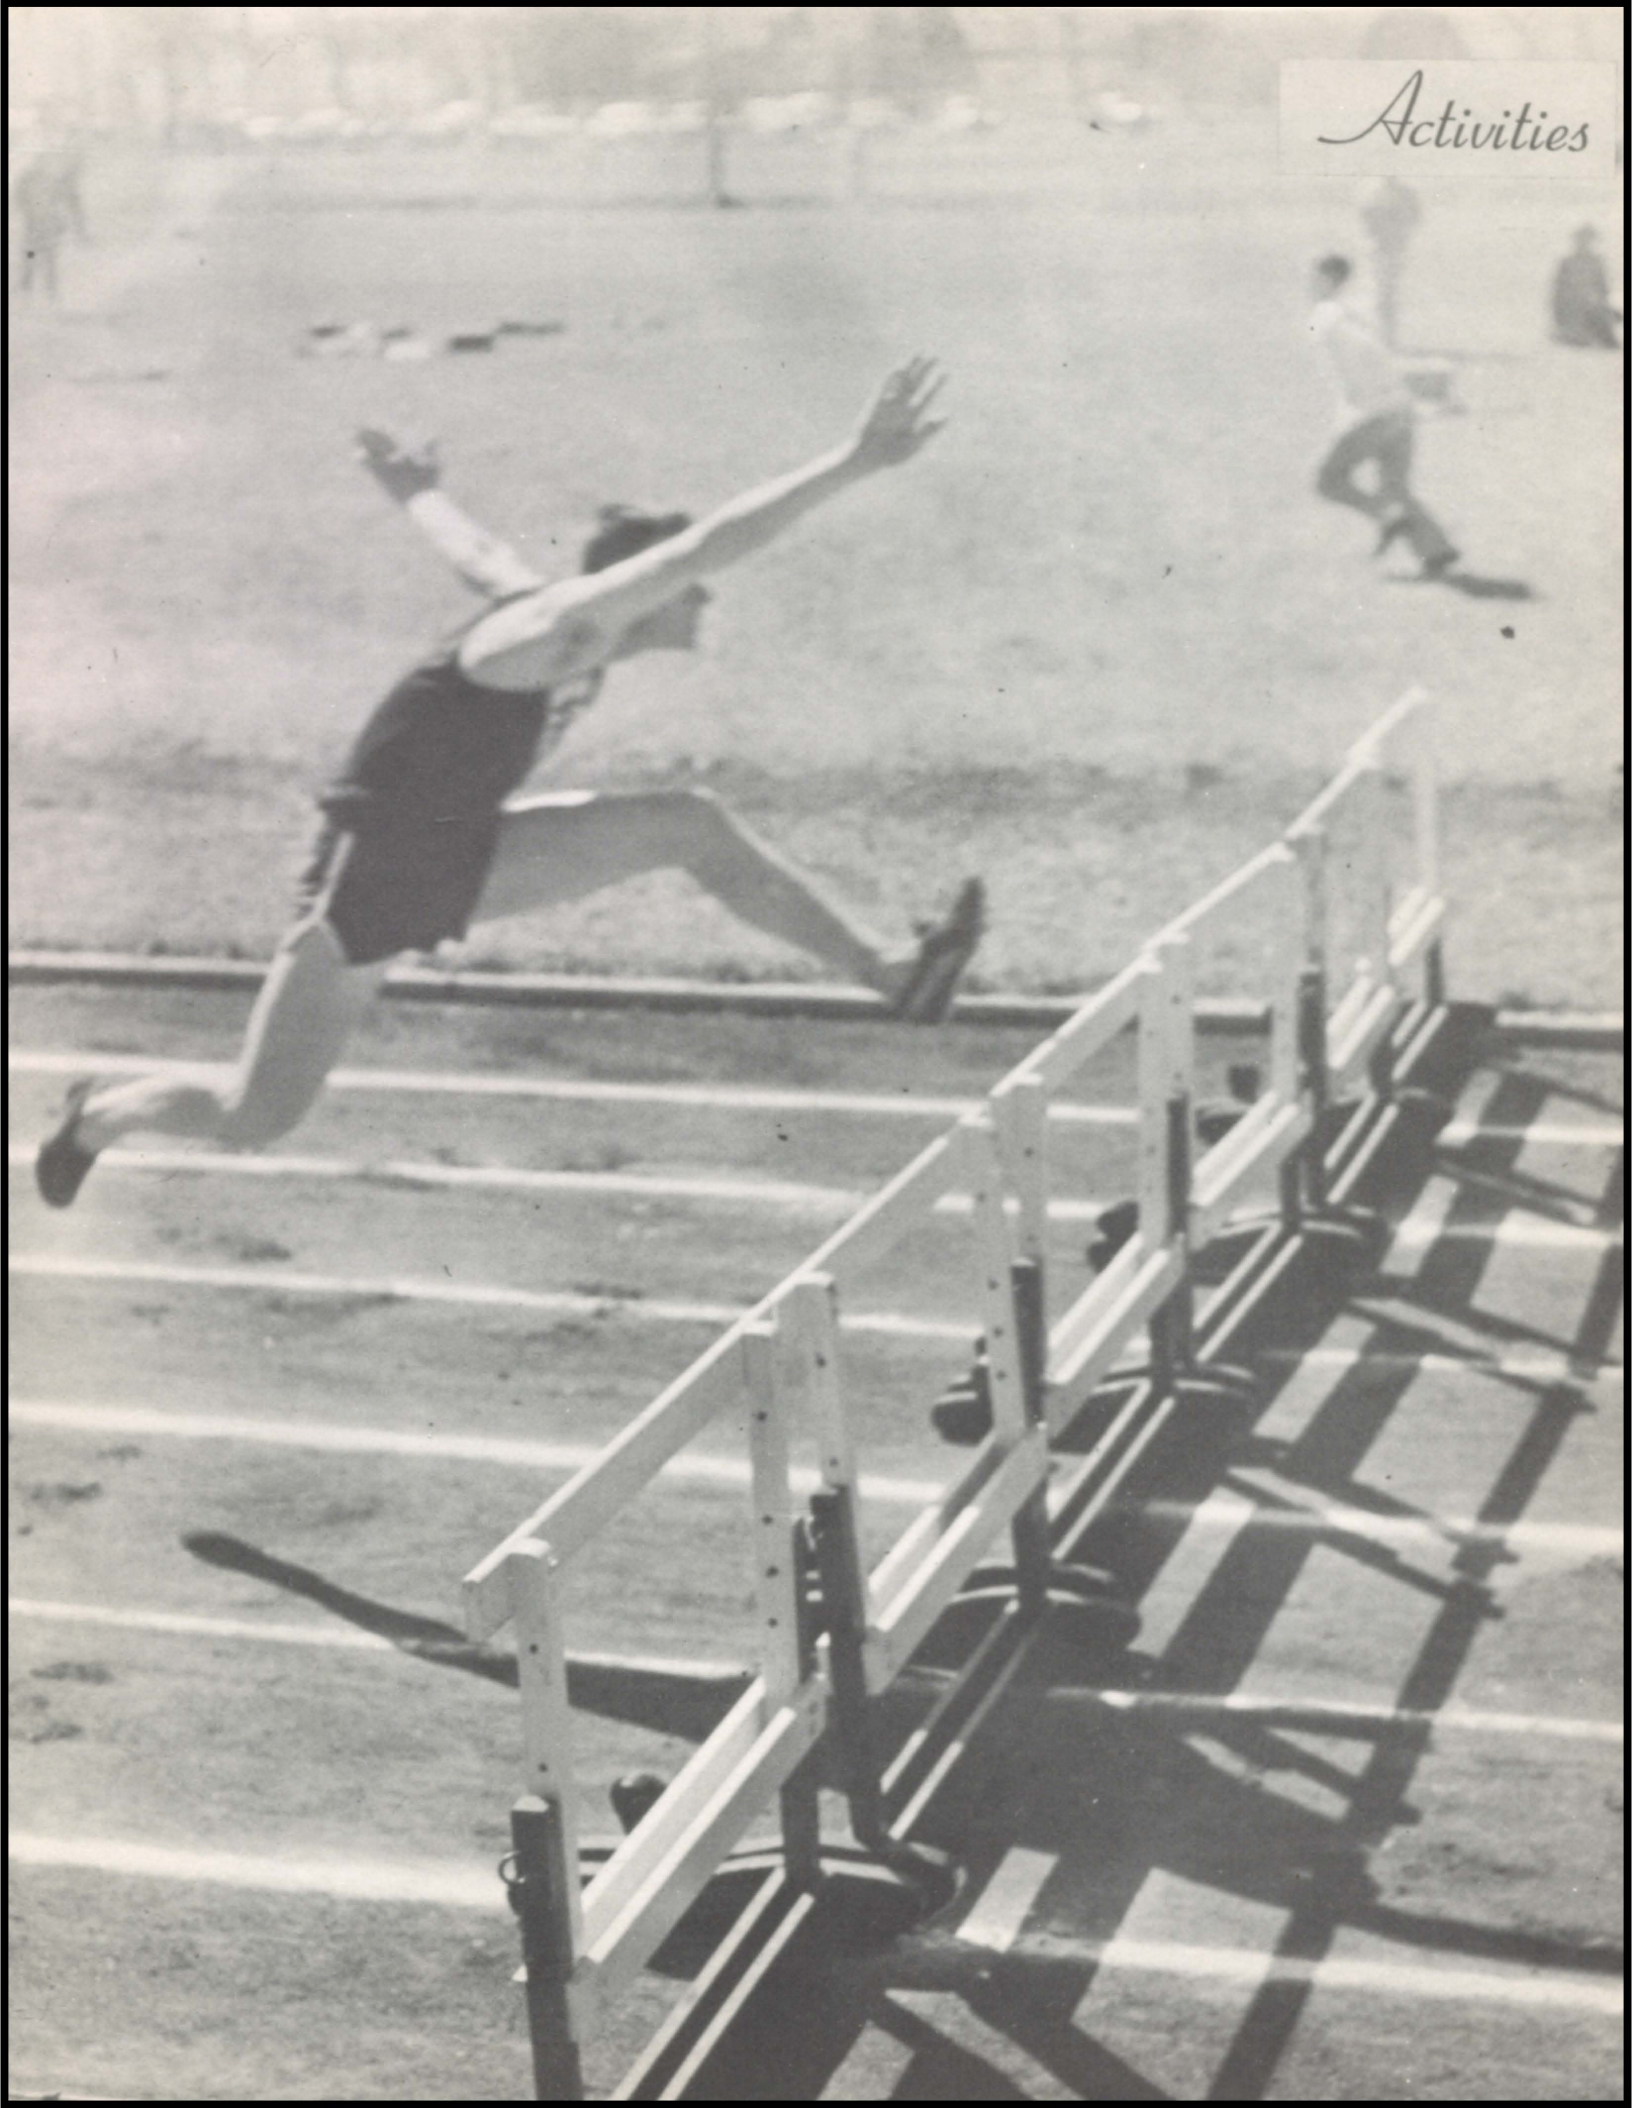

Eagerly waiting for the doors to open, the students pause outside to chat with their fellow school-mates.

7

Long, short or in between, which ever you preferred it was in style this year.

"To look sharp,
To feel sharp,

And to be sharp" is the motto of the MHS band as it tours the countryside; and indeed they were sharp as they brought home trophies won at the American Legion convention in Aberdeen and at the Bridgewater contest.

With the buses groaning from the load of suitcases, horns, sleeping bags, and cots, the MHS band joyfully set off for a good-will tour of the Black Hills. They made their headquarters at Custer. After seeing the smiles of happiness at Fort Meade, the Veterans' Hospital, the Old Soldiers' Home, and at Sanator, the band members felt well rewarded for their performances.

"Hey, come on in the water's warm!" were the unanimous shouts as the band members took a swim in Evan's Pool at Hot Springs. The band also toured Wind Cave and the Homestake Gold Mine.

The band made several small trips, one of which was to the Edgerton Dutch Festival. Bill received a pair of dutch shoes as a token of friendship between the band and the people of Edgerton.

During the school year the band went to Mitchell to play and to root for the football team. The band also presented a concert March 27.

So ends another year in the memories of the MHS band.

"Did you hear something fourth period?" "Oh, yes! Such harmony! Such depth!"

Upon investigation you found it was the chorus or girls glee club practicing in the Auditorium. The chorus, girls glee club, and small groups are directed by Miss Schroeder and the boys glee club by Bill Ireland.

Some of the major performances of these groups were at the annual Christmas program and at the Baccalaureate service here at MHS. The groups were also entered in the Region II Music Contest held on April 12-13, where all three clubs received superior ratings.

Many small vocal groups have participated in various other activities such as church functions, business clubs, talent shows, school programs, and All State Chorus.

Maroon Staff

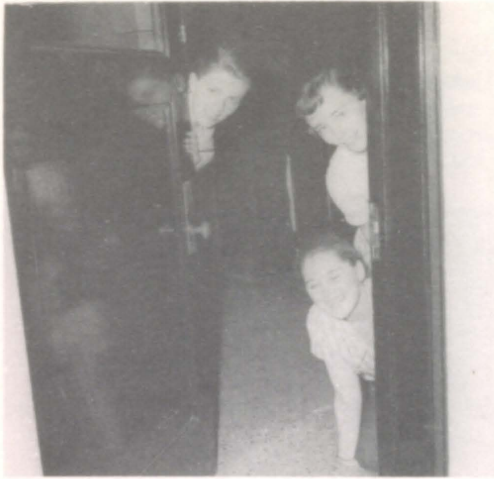

Marlene Berkelo and Rosemarie Allen, co-editors, start the ball rolling each month as they plan and edit the Maroon, with the guidance of Miss Kilker.

Once a month is "Maroon Day" for the student body. Before that day arrives, however, the staff works diligently assembling material, writing and editing stories, proofreading, making the dummy copy, delivering the copy to the printers, and finally--distributing the finished product to each high school student.

Painstakingly LeRoyce Istas, typist, prepares the final copy to be sent to the printers. Her work must be correct if the printed issue is to be such.

Searching for news stories and making assignments to her assistants are the two main jobs of Delores Berkelo, news editor. Assistants are Richard Mullaney, Mary Ann Coonradt, and Arlea Robson.

"Just snooping around" are the Maroon feature writers, Peggy Mullaney and Marlys Wiegman, and the feature editor, Donna Schultz. These girls are always on the look out for human interest stories.

Sports editor, Wayne Hines and sports assistant, Terry Casey, get first hand information on the years basketball season from Herb Lucken and Bob Appelwick, two members of the All-State Basketball team.

Anything unusual or new around MHS is sure to be illustrated in the Maroon by their cartoonist, Rebecca Brekke.

Last but not least. The circulation heads, Mary and Margaret Felker, pick up the finished copy of the Maroon at the leader office in readiness for distribution at 11:55 to the students.

Annual Staff

Decisions upon decisions must be made by the editors, Jane and Joan Johnson, and Interlakes advisor, Miss Johnson, as they mold plans for a successful yearbook.

To make this a book of memories, the Interlakes staff has tried to capture your activities as they really are so that when you browse through the pages, you will remember your 1955-56 year at MHS.

We have enjoyed working on the staff and have put forth every effort to make this the best Interlakes yet.

Marian Nelson and Jennie Greene, sophomore assistants, hop out of "the buggy" and hurry to the staff meeting to complete work on the faculty pages.

Moments of Work

Our efficient photographer, Marilyn Nelson, is always on the job with her trusty camera be it "rain or shine." Marilyn takes all except the large group pictures for our Annual.

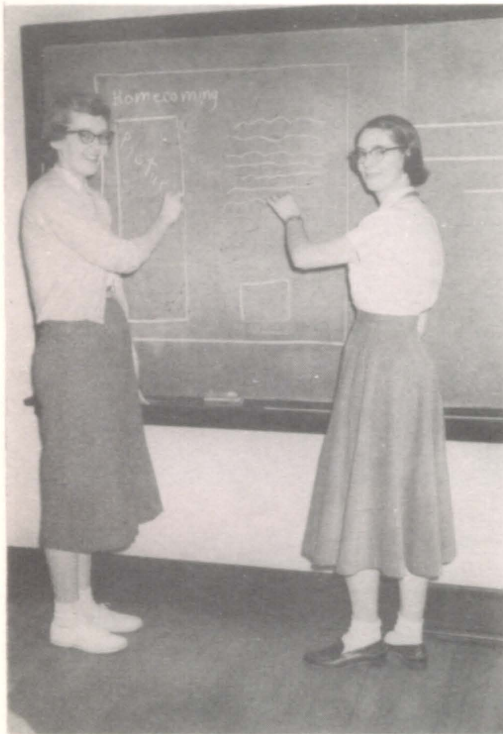

Collecting data for the sports pages in our annual, sports editor, Bob Campbell, intently surveys the athletic bulletin board.

Hours of Laughter

Smiles of approval come as the junior assistants, Karen VanderGoore and Charlotte Osborne, view a page layout as a probable plan for their page.

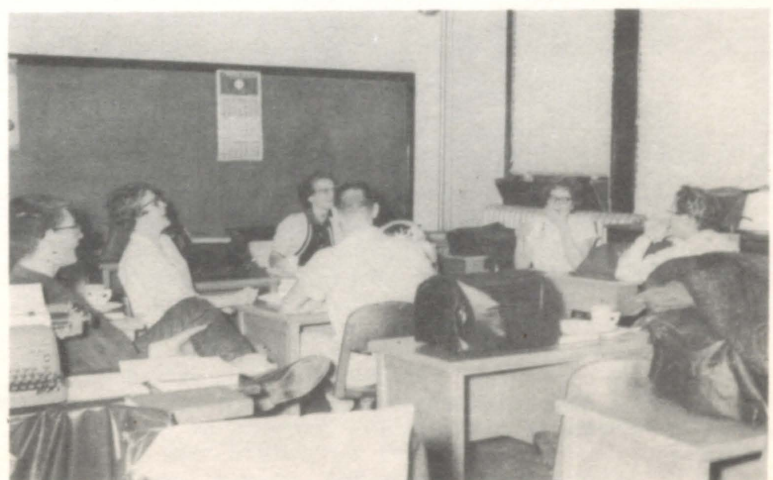

"If at first you don't succeed, try and try again" has become a favorite saying of our typists, LeRoy Long and Priscilla Pirwitz. All typing for the annual must be letter perfect.

Delores Doty and Marybelle Odell check names of the MHS students in the school files as a small part of their duties as class editors.

One of the "hours of laughter" was spent with refreshments in celebration of the editors' birthday.

Left to right. Standing: J. Davin, K. Anderson, W. Hines, Miss Krogmann, M. Coonradt. Seated: M. Zilch, S. Hope, G. Anderson, and A. Zastrow.

The National Forensic League is an honorary society in which membership is gained through points earned in public speaking. The Madison chapter is a charter member of the League. The advisor is Miss Krogmann.

Debate

Searching, Sorting, and Speaking

This year the debate team tackled the problem of "federal aid for higher education." Although all were first year debaters, they willingly competed at Vermillion, Watertown, Sioux Falls, Yankton, Mitchell, and participated in the Tri-State meet at Madison. Discussions were held after each debate trip to better prepare themselves for future debating.

Dramatics Club

MHS Theatre Presents

Many future thespians went "all-out" for the Dramatic Club this year. Plays were interpreted, directed, and staged by the members of the club. All agree that it was a worthwhile and valuable experience.

Declam was divided into four divisions, namely; poetry, oratory, humorous, and dramatics. Miss Krogmann was advisor to the contestants in the humorous and oratory divisions and Mrs. Groeneveld advised the poetry and dramatics groups. The students prepared a selection for the local contest which was held November 19. The winners were as follows: Mary Holle, humorous; Karen Malthesen, oratory; Mariys Wiegman, poetry; LeRoyce Istas, dramatics. From the local contest, they went to the district where Mariys Wiegman won a superior and the other three excellent. Mariys continued to the regional and then to the state where she received an excellent rating.

With the smile of victory, Nan Deniger wins first choice, and the softball game proceeds.

As in the pictures of the GAA, these girls participated in many sports. They learned the fundamentals of the games, then divided into teams to put their learning into practice. The GAA centered its attention on five games, which include the following: speedball, volleyball, basketball, tumbling, and softball.

In addition to the regular features, the GAA sponsored the interclass basketball tournament and a play day for the seventh and eighth grade girls. Participating in the Physical Education demonstration concluded the GAA activities of the year.

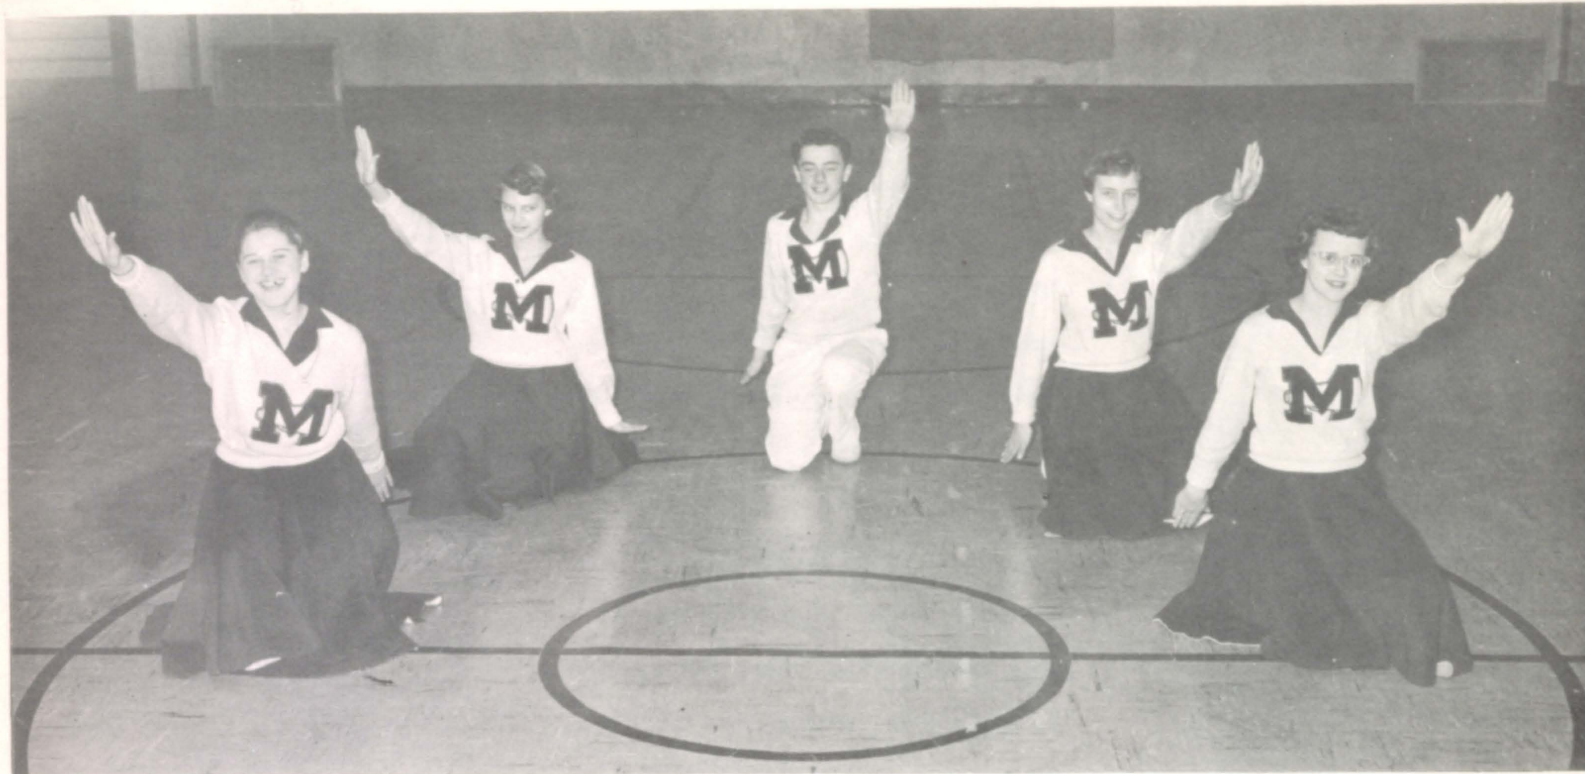

"We won!" said the first row, "But we had just as much fun," said the second row, after a highly competitive game of volleyball.

"A" CHEERLEADERS

The "A" cheerleaders, clad in Bermuda shorts and knee socks, broke the age-long tradition of skirts and slacks at MHS.

Planning pep meetings and leading the student body in organized enthusiastic cheering were the most important duties of the cheerleaders.

This year Madison had a sure-fire yell, "You-----rah, rah, Madison." When the team needed a special boost, this yell shook the rafters. Student support is needed for a team to do well and surely the students did support their team under the leadership of this year's cheerleaders.

"B" CHEERLEADERS

The "B" team cheerleaders took complete charge of the cheering section for the "B" team games.

These three were the personification of never-dying pep and enthusiasm.

Football

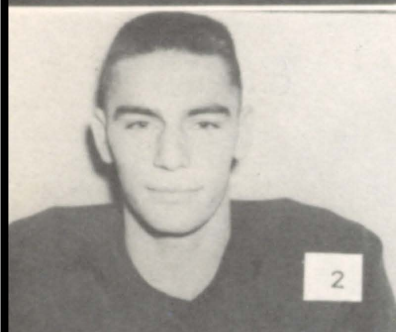

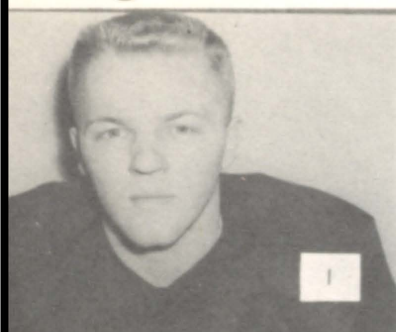

Dauntless,

This year's football team, under the direction of coaches Cook and Hilton, had a successful season. This can be seen in the fact that our total output of points equalled the number of points scored against us by our opponents.

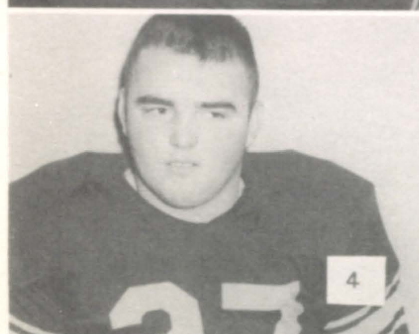

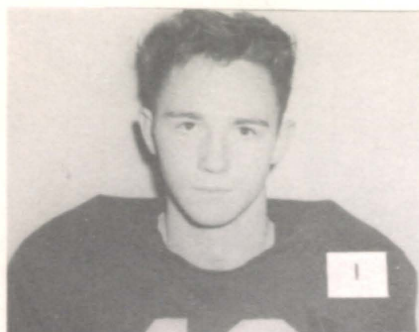

One of the highlights of the football season came when the Bulldogs defeated the team that won the E. S. D. this season, the Mitchell Kernels, by a score of 18 to 13.

The team had its good games and its bad ones; but besides learning how to play the game of football, the boys learned something of the game of life by learning the value of cooperation and sportsmanship.

The B team is the second step in the trio of steps which lead to playing on the A team. The B team, after playing its last game of the season, found that it had won 11 games and lost 7, which is a very commendable record.

The boys on the B team, under the instruction of Coach Hilton, have all done a good job this season and will be giving repeated performances next year on the A team.

Judging by the records of this team, future basketball seasons at MHS can be predicted to be good ones.

The Freshman basketball team is the first step in a trio of steps which eventually leads to playing on the A team. Coach Brady teaches the boys the fundamentals of our high school system of basketball and prepares them for next year when they will play on the B team.

The team finished the season with a one win, nine loss record. The one victory was against Brookings and two close, overtime games were played against Chester and Beadle.

The A team is the third and final step in Central's basketball program. Many would call it the, "pay off."

This year our A squad accomplished a feat which has never before been accomplished in the history of our school. For the first time a team wearing maroon and white captured the Eastern South Dakota Conference title. It was through team cooperation and effort that this was accomplished. The bulldogs always came through when the competition was keen, and it could always be seen that the boys on the team had the spirit of, "never give up."

One of the main reasons for our winning the ESD championship is best expressed by Coach Cook himself as he always told the boys, "Where there's a will, there's a way; and if you will hard enough, you'll find a way."

All in all, this track season was very successful for our boys in maroon and white. This year's track team has not only done well as a team, but also has had some outstanding individual performances. The team placed second in the Madison Invitational Track Meet, placed fourth in the Conference Meet, and scored sixteen and one-half points in the State Meet.

Herb Lucken was the record breaker of the year. He broke the high hurdles record in the Conference Meet and tied the school record. Herb won first place in the low hurdles in both meets.

1. V. Seitz and Bob Sullivan were the speedy milers representing the maroon and white.

2. Left to right. G. Rames, T. Jensen, C. Rounds, B. Rumrill, G. Appelwick. These boys were the weight men.

3. Left to right. D. Vickmark, A. Amonson, H. Lucken, G. Rames, B. Nangle. These speedy thin-clads constituted relay teams.

The men who have lettered in any sport during their high school career are members of the M Club.

The M Club is an honor club, but by no means just an honor club for it is a very active club. This past year they sponsored social hours, sold "booster" buttons, sold pencils and took charge of the grade tournaments. With the profits the M Club bought more equipment for the movie camera, an amplifier and record machine, and a record board for track.

Have you seen the scrapbooks in the Library? If not, why not? They contain all newspaper clippings dealing with Madison High. Did you remember that last year was the Diamond Jubilee? A special book "chuck" full of news, pictures, and advertisements from 1880 has been made. Compiling scrapbooks is just one of the many jobs these girls perform. We don't mean "jobs" to sound like forced labor for these girls enjoy working among books. They catalogue, mend and preview books during their study periods.

1. The high-stepping twirling club members of MHS are as follows: Myrtle Wilde, Ardis Horner, Jeanette Wilde, and Roberta Hinde.

2. Receiving their annuals on the first day of school, the students eagerly page through their books, renew old memories, and then settle down to two hours of autographing.

3. "Watch the man behind the one in front of you."
The sophomore class is given a complete course in driver's training taught by Mr. Hilton.

4. Reluctant to leave the out-of-doors, the students saunter to their lockers hoping to beat the last bell.

5. Keeping our school in tip-top shape for the students, are our faithful custodians, Lewis Hemre and Walter Schultz.

6. "Practice makes perfect."
Members of the journalism club study the requirements of good story writing. Margie Stahl and Carol Tessin will become future members of the Maroon staff.

School Day Pals

"Look Out! I'm slipping."

Tumbling was an important activity this year. It gave the girls a chance to develop muscular co-ordination.

With warm weather here once again, the FHA girls have their last get-together in the form of a picnic at Lake Herman.

Elected as the most valuable men of the season in basketball, football, and track are Bob Appelwick, Wayne Hines, and Herbert Lucken respectively.

With a grateful smile, Albert Fuller received from the Elks a hundred dollar bond given in recognition of scholastic achievement.

Great tension rises as everyone waits. "Will the ball go into the basket or will it miss?" was a common thought at the basketball games.

Heralding everyone to the 1955 Homecoming festivities were the elves from Fantasy Land. Breaking the tense silence was Vance Gregerson as he announced JANE JOHNSON and WAYNE HINES 1955 KING and QUEEN. Present at Homecoming to crown them were last year's Royalty, Kathleen Hare and Bob Rumrill.

Then came the program featuring visitors from Fantasy Land. A change of tempo was noted as everyone marched out to the traditional bonfire. Flames, cheers, and music all prepared for the events to come on Friday.

1. Kathleen Hare and Bob Rumrill the 1954 King and Queen of Music Land crown JANE JOHNSON and WAYNE HINES KING and QUEEN of Fantasy Land.

2. Ready and waiting for the parade to begin are the 1955 Homecoming Royalty (left to right) L. Chapman, R. Malikowski, J. Johnson, KING W. HINES, QUEEN J. JOHNSON, K. Kendall, L. Roberts, R. Campbell.

3. Dancing in an Arabian atmosphere, we end our Homecoming festivities.

4. A perfect ending to a perfect day!

5. KING and QUEEN, WAYNE and JANE begin the 1955 Homecoming festivities.

A Many Splendored Thing

The hurry and scurry of last minute preparations for the parade began the activities of Friday. The parade, which was one of the best, included everyone from Peter Pan to the Three Little Pigs.

Friday night spirits were high--it was time for the big game. Although they tried their best and fought their hardest, they couldn't get past the Aberdeen Eagles. At the sound of the final gun the score was 16-0.

Dancing in the armory, which was decorated in a blue and white Arabian Nights theme, ended Homecoming for another year.

1. Visitors from "never-never land" at our Homecoming festivities are Peter-Pan and Tinkerbell.
2. Joining the other fantasy characters are Lady and the Tramp.
3. And these three little piggies went to the parade.
4. A little elf, a big pencil, and another page of school history.
5. "Fire, fire, burning bright in this cool September night, your leaping flames all seem to be glowing signs of victory."

The trophy for the Follies was awarded to the sophomore president, Glenn Rames, by Herman Collignon, representing the Elks.

1. The freshman panel of "I've got a problem" looks on as Buster Appelwick demonstrates his problem. The panel members are: (left to right) William Cullen Bryant (David Blair), Lane Readows (Jeanette Jacobson), Henry Organ (Dean Nighbert), Tuhulu Bankhead (Judy McDonald), and the M. C., Larry Moore (John Holle).
2. Through song and story, Bob Doyle presents a "backwoods jamboree."
3. The narrator, Kieth Liddiard watches while detective Rodney Hallowell inspects the scene, accompanied by his "trusty" Bloodhound.
4. Moderator takes us to Scotland where two Scottish belles, Sally Hope and Joan Johnson, do the Highland Fling.

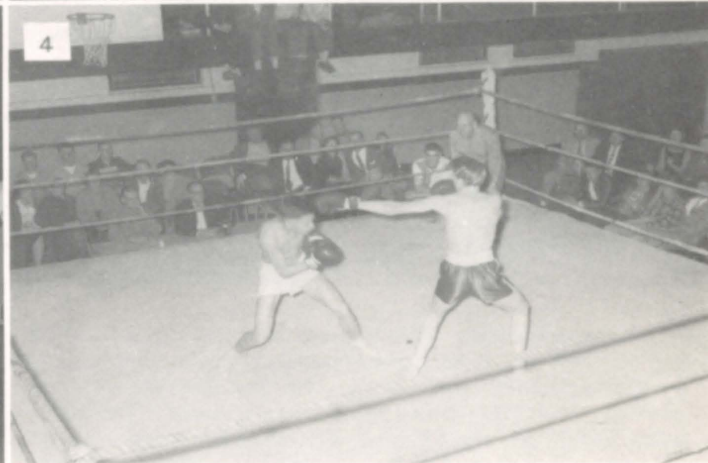

November 10 saw Mary Ann Holle, Mistress of Ceremonies, introducing the 1955 Follies. The frantic hustle and bustle changed from its usual time in the spring to the fall.

Following the skits, written and produced by the students, the boxing matches were held in the gym. Everyone rushed to the Armory where the scene was varied by lunch, dancing, and the highlight, the coronation.

CRAIG ROUNDS and SHEILA RENSCH, sophomore candidates, were crowned KING and QUEEN, after which their class was awarded the coveted trophy for the best skit.

Besides providing an evening of gaiety, these festivities help to finance the yearbook.

3. The waltz you saved for me.
4. Kem Oldre and John Gutzman furnish a few tense moments for the onlookers.

5. This individual act featured the King Sisters in "How to be very, very popular!"
6. Mary and Margaret Felker displayed their musical ability for an individual act.
7. Introducing our Follies program was the newly organized MHS orchestra.
8. Marlys Wiegman delighted the audience with her poem, "The Courtin'".

The saying, "Music is the thing of the world that we love most," was genuinely expressed by the students partaking in the Christmas program of the MHS vocal music department. The melodic notes of the Chorus, Girls' Glee Club, small groups, and soloists appropriately ushered in the Christmas season.

1. "We shall sing for you--," is the way Miss Schroeder introduced the All-State choral group. They enjoyed singing numbers from their All-State Chorus repertoire and other Christmas songs.

2. "Me and my teddy bear, just play and play all day." Judy Davin, Valerie Williams, and Sheila Rensch sing as their bedtime nears.

3. Rebecca Brekke, Sophie Shaheen, and Nancy Amonson bring you "Holiday Greetings."

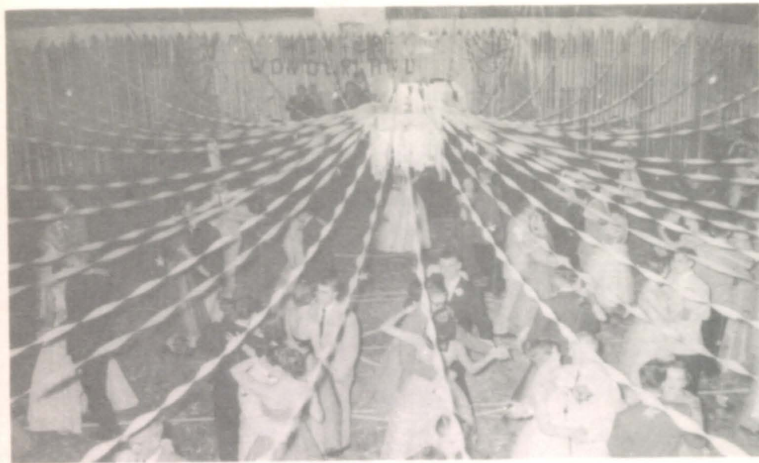

4. "Mister Santa bring us some boys." Priscilla Pirwitz, Mary Millett, Joan Johnson, and Kay Davin answer Santa's question, "What do you want for Christmas?"

5. A piano duo, Marian Nelson and Jennie Greene, add a religious note to the program with the beautiful "O Holy Night."

6. The Dungarees tell the tale of the adventures of "Willie Claus, Little Son of Santa Claus."

Christmas Season

1954 King and Queen Larry Cross and Kathleen Hare crown the 1955 Royalty, Karen Drew and Leland Kirkeby.

Many fond memories were made of this.

Winter Wonderland

Waltzing to the strains of Pat Boffman's Orchestra, fifty couples thoroughly enjoyed the annual Holiday Hop sponsored by the Horizon Clubs.

Icy punch and fancy cookies were enjoyed by the dancers. Pictured are Glen Rames, Delores Chapman, and Loretta Chapman.

And all the house was decorated making it a cheery symbol of Christmas. Assisting Jennie Greene in decorating were: Rose Marie Mullen, Marian Nelson, and Connie Noteboom.

Polio Auction

1. "What'll you give me for this super-duper cake?" cries Dick Welch, one of the auctioneers for this years polio auction.
2. The senior boys, Herb Lucken, Wayne Hines, Bob Appelwick, Dick Welch, and Tom Keough, were needed to keep the lively auction going.

Fun for a Worthy Cause

Once again the spirit and enthusiasm of the MHS students shone forth in the annual Polio Auction held on February 9. Everything from cakes to dates was sold, making a grand total of $80.12.

3. As they say: "Nothing is free." Dick Nettum pays for his hard-earned cake to the cashiers, Marlys Wiegman and Janice Fox.

Spinster Dance

1. Miss Bielmaier and Miss Shevling depict the popular piece "Poor People of Paris" for their costumes at the Spinster Dance.
2. Here we see many "Jukebox Babies" displaying their dancing abilities.
3. "Cutting the carpet" while winning the jitterbug contest are Kay Davin and Bruce Mortensen.

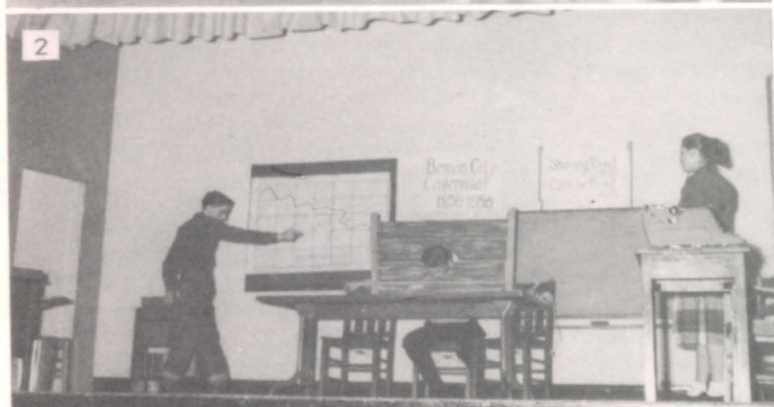

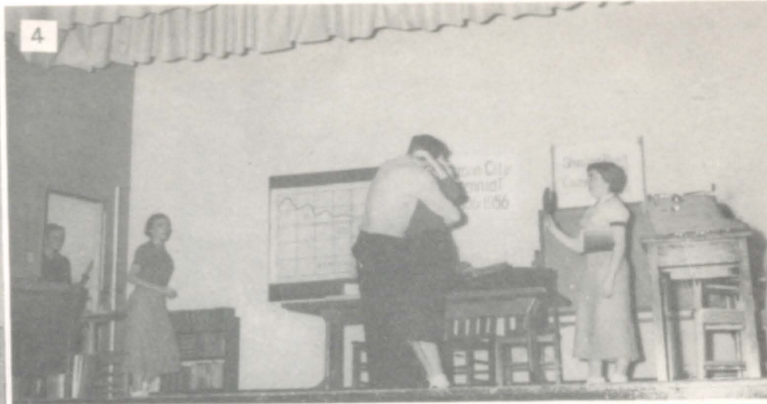

To Each, Her Own

This year many popular records from the "Jukebox" came to life at the Spinster Dance sponsored on April 20 by the Maroon staff. Seldom do the girls get to ask the boys!

All School Play

Life Can Be Fun

1. Miss Benson (Jane Spawn): If you two dare move tonight---so help me---I'll put real bullets in the gun and shoot you both myself!
2. Randolph (Tom Keough): You dented my father's fender.
3. Rick (Pat Doyle): It's Randolph! I'll pulverize him!
4. Julie (Donna Schultz): First it was Mindy, then Betty, and now it's Sue.
5. Lanny (Bob Sullivan): I lost my way long ago.
6. Randolph (Tom Keough): This is a hold-up! Reach for the sky!

"Who is he?" "Where did the diary go?" These were the queries heard as the all-school play, "Phantom of the High School," delighted a large audience of parents, friends, and students. The play was presented February 13 and 14 in the high school auditorium.

The play concerned a mysterious Phantom and the disappearance of a diary written by the pioneer founder of Bensonville.

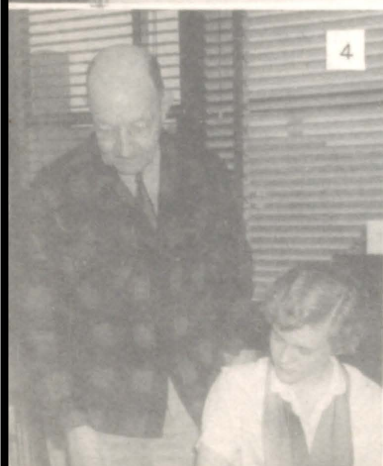

The leading roles were double cast. Mindy was played by Karen Anderson and Marlys Wiegman. Rick was played by Pat Doyle and Dick Nettum. The play was supported by an able cast consisting of Donna Schultz, Glenn Rames, Mary Ann Holle, Karen Kendall, Sally Hope, Albert Fuller, Albert Amonson, Jane Spawn, Priscilla Pirwitz, Bob Sullivan, Craig Rounds, Delores Chapman, Anita Bogue, Judy Davin, Peggy Mullaney, and Don Bogue. Everyone enjoyed Tommy Keough in his everyday cleverness which he easily carried forth into his role as Randolph.

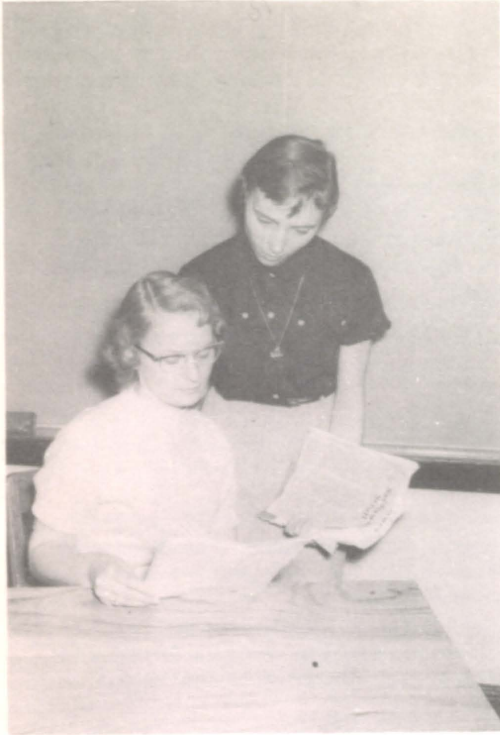

Student Government Day

Leaders for the Day

Student Government Day was held on April 24 to acquaint the students of MHS with our city government. At an assembly Judge Quist swore in the officials after which the students took over their duties. In the evening the American Legion sponsored a banquet at Tomscha's with Judge Mumford from Howard as guest speaker.

1. This year the students went all out for campaigning as you can see. The bedecked room is the MHS Auditorium.
2. The first event of Student Government Day was the swearing-in ceremony by Judge Quist.
3. All participants of Student Government Day were served a banquet by the American Legion at Tomscha's.
4. Gloria Anderson, city assessor for the day, checks the value of the property in Madison with the city assessor, Fred Fawkes.
5. Donald Bogue, acting police chief, takes a call as Chief of Police, Gordon Stanford stands by.
6. Mary Holle, appointed mayor, takes notes on the commissioner's meeting in order to have a more complete report when she gives it to the student body.
7. DeLores Chapman, distribution supervisor, climbs into the city truck to inspect the electrical lines and poles.
8. "Crime never pays" said Gene Carr as he wearily served his fifteen minutes in jail for a stop sign violation.
9. Judge Mumford from Howard gave the main speech at the banquet.

Bobinette Anderson (seated) and Donna Schultz awaiting the arrival of Girls' State are getting first hand information through last year's Girls' State paper.

After spending a week on the Dakota Wesleyan Campus at Mitchell, this years Girls' Staters came home with added knowledge in the principles of government and with fond memories of friends, campaigns, elections, recreation and receptions.

The girls were sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Wayne Hines, Governor of 1955 Boys' State, congratulates Keith Jurgens and Terry Jensen as the 1956 Boys' State representatives.

DAR

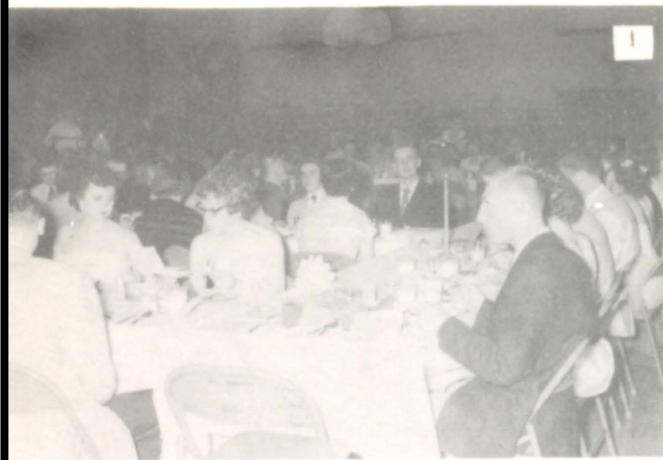

Once again Boys' Staters participated in the traditional ball games, campaigns, elections, and inaugural ceremonies held at Northern State Teachers College in Aberdeen. The boys set up and learn to operate city, county, and state governments.

After browsing in the library, Marilyn Nelson, DAR representative, settles down to read a science book.

The DAR representative is chosen on the basis of her dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism in her school, church, and home.

Banquet

An Exciting Array

Taking the seniors back to the deep south in colonial times, the juniors sponsored the annual junior-senior banquet.

The banquet was held in the St. Thomas gym on April 28. Appropriate decorations, speeches, and songs added a touch of spice and helped to carry out the theme.

1. As a final chance to entertain the seniors, the junior class works out a southern colonial setting for the banquet.
2. In keeping with the southern theme, the girls vocal group sing about the "Carolina Moon."
3. Surveying their handiwork the juniors add a few finishing touches to the tables.
4. Adding a touch of gaiety to the theme the boys vocal group sang a lively version of "This Old House."
5. Junior class president, Vance Gregerson acting as Toastmaster, gave a welcome and introduced the speakers.
6. Herbert Lucken, senior class president, responded to the junior welcome with appropriate remarks on behalf of the senior class.
7. Mrs. Groeneveld, main speaker for the night, gave an interesting sketch of southern recreation.

1. After very efficiently serving at the banquet the waiters and waitresses followed the group to the Golf Club to take charge of the refreshments. Pictured left to right: L. Roberts, J. Kuchenbecker, R. Mullens, D. Gilbertson, C. Rounds, R. Mullaney, B. Rush, J. Schaub.
2. Taking time out for intermission, the dancers relax their weary feet and enjoy a moment of fellowship over a cup of punch.
3. After a delicious meal at the banquet, the juniors invited the seniors to the Golf Club to enjoy an evening of dancing.
4. "Service with a smile" is her motto as Betty Rush serves Ardis Chapman and Harold Hines punch and cookies.
5. As the last strains of music were heard, much regret was felt as the time came to end an unforgettable evening.

1. Bob Campbell, recipient of the Rotary Award, was presented a year's scholarship to General Beadle State Teachers College. Mr. Leffler, representing the Rotarians, presented the award.
2. The DAV Speech Award was given to Karen Anderson by Mr. C. Lowe.
3. On behalf of the American Legion, Mr. Coler presented the Citizenship Award to Herbert Lucken.
4. Marilyn Nelson happily receives the Salutatory Award from Mr. Engelhorn.
5. For scholastic achievement, Dr. Freitag presented the Kiwanis Award to Gay Lynn Noteboom.
6. Proudly Mary Holle and Herb Lucken accept the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship award from Mr. Engelhorn.
7. The book, I DARE YOU, presented by the Danforth Foundation was given to Wayne Hines and Marilyn Nelson.
8. Student Body President, Wayne Hines, was presented a medal for his work as president.

"....Whosoever will come after me let him deny himself and take up his cross, and follow me," Mark 8:34. This scripture was used by Dr. Lochridge at the Baccalaureate service.

Baccalaureate, the religious part of graduation for the fifty-nine seniors was held May 20, 1956, at 8:00. The Invocation and Baccalaureate sermon were given by Dr. Lochridge, pastor of the Methodist Church. In the sermon, he expressed this central theme, "Except as God dies in the heart of man, He lives." The girls glee club sang "Lamb of God" before the sermon, after which the mixed chorus sang "Guide Us Through the Night." Then, after the benediction the chorus sang "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

As others have walked in their way, the '56 seniors began the long walk to the Commencement exercises. As each senior left the school for the last time, he recalled many happy memories and some sad ones, too. Many friendships will end as friends depart upon the crossroads of life. What does the future hold for these graduates? The school wished them the best with the words "Glorv and fame be yours, wherever you may go."

Dr. Ben Reifel, in his commencement address, reminded the seniors of the boundless opportunities afforded them in our country and state. Whatever their chosen field might be, the opportunities are there if the individual will but avail himself of them--"This is the Place."

Nancy Hansen proudly accepts her diploma from Mr. Casey, chairman of the school board.

Citizens with Time for Extras

Chairman, Delos Casey, was born in Vivian, S. D. and has attended Chamberlain High School, Yankton College and Capital College where he majored in Pharmacy. Aside from his pharmacy, Mr. Casey enjoys hunting. He has resided in Madison for seventeen years and has served as a board member for the past five years. Active in other activities of the community, Mr. Casey is chairman of the Agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

One who has seen a lot of Madison Central is Veral Greene, a Centralite graduate. Since his high school days he has worked at the city light plant and is now superintendent. Mr. Greene has no specific hobby, but enjoys welding, electronics, building machinery and other mechanical devices. A life-long resident of Madison, he has been past master of the Masonic Lodge and has served on the school board since 1949.

Mrs. Harold Jensen, home-maker and gardener, has been a board member for four years. Her hometown is Oldham, where she attended grade school and high school. She is a graduate of Nettleton Commercial College. Having been a resident of Madison for twenty years, she has been past president of the Washington PTA, Ladies' Auxiliary, and is now state President of the 8 et 40, an honorary branch of the American Legion Auxiliary.

A past teacher and coach for sixteen years, Mr. Hauge is serving his first term on both the city and county school boards. He has attended Lake Norden High School, Huron College, and the University of South Dakota, where he received his Master's degree. Being an insurance adjuster takes Mr. Hauge away from Madison frequently, but he still remains active in the Rotary, and Masonic Lodge.

Dr. Julian Jensen, local dentist for six years, received his education at Marion, South Dakota High School, Augustana College, and North Western University. He has been on the board for two years and is an active participant in community activities: committee chairman of the local Boy Scouts, and a member of the Kiwanis Club. Dr. Jensen's time is occupied by his dentistry, but he manages to find time to "putter" around at golf.

Clerk of the school board for seven years, Mr. Ericsson is a local lawyer. His varied activities include having been past master of the Masonic Lodge, present state senator for Lake and Moody Counties and colonel in the ROTC. This makes quite a busy life for Mr. Ericsson, but he still finds time for golf and tennis. His professional training was received at the University of South Dakota Law School.

Senior member of the board is Mr. George Simpson, who has been treasurer for twenty one years. In 1948 he served as commander of the American Legion and also has been their adjutant or secretary for over twenty years. When civic duties don't occupy his time, his favorite sport is hunting. Having been a graduate of Central High and taken a business course at General Beadle College, Mr. Simpson is now an auditor.

Superintendent

The Thompsons are regular church-goers.

Mr. Thompson has been superintendent of the Madison City Schools for four and one-half years. His background is composed of sixteen years experience.

Mr. Thompson expresses his appreciation by saying:

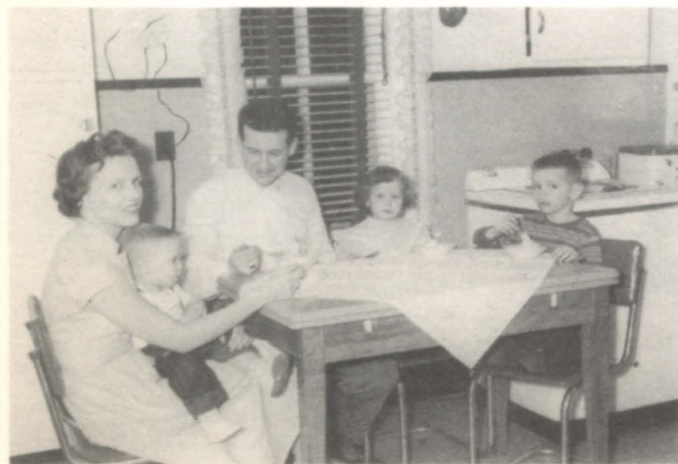

The staff members of the 1956 Inter Lakes are to be commended for the completion of an outstanding yearbook. The organization of this annual gives proof that many, many hours of toil were expended in the portrayal of a successful school year. In appreciation, I wish to congratulate Miss Johnson and all of her staff for making the 1956 Inter Lakes a success.

Busy at one of her many tasks.

Mr. Thompson's efficient secretary is Theresa Erschens. She came to Central from Lake Benton where she served the same position for three years.

Principal

Mr. Engelhorn relaxes with his family and a dish of ice cream.

For four years Mr. Engelhorn has been Central's principal and also American history teacher. He has a sum of six years teaching experience.

To you the students, Mr. Englehorn says:

You have shared many minutes, hours, and days with each other at Madison Central. Between the covers of this book are captured and preserved many of the pleasant memories you have had together. Remember always to keep alive the traditions of your school and to appreciate this summary of your personal history--this is the most enjoyable period of your life.
