In Memoriam,

We Dedicate . . .

. . . with sincere appreciation and deepest respect this 1965 Interlakes to Mrs. Florence Moose in return for the priceless gifts of knowledge and inspiration she has bestowed upon us. It is our way of expressing our gratitude for all that she did during her years as teacher at Beadle and Madison Central High Schools. We are certain that the knowledge which she instilled and planted in us will take root, grow, and reproduce to be planted in the minds of others. Although she is no longer with us, her wisdom will live on.

Leaders Today and Tomorrow

Presiding over student council meetings, introducing assemblies, and just being around when fellow students want to discuss student government are some of the many duties which, Glen Johnson will tell you, make the position of student body president a full-time activity.

Old and new members of the National Honor Society proudly pose as they consider the position which they have held or now hold. Old members are Seniors who were elected during the previous year. Each spring these Seniors, along with certain teachers, elect new members by choosing 10% of the Junior class and 5% more of the Senior class to hold this honor. From left to right are, back row—Gary Nelson, Linda Hess, Damon Hof, Carol Terry, Glen Johnson, JoAnn Boer, Jim Casler; third row—Ellen Terry, Donovan Albertson, Gary Diede, Steve Graff, Gary Renner, Betty Van Den Hemel; second row—Linda Wheeler, Peggy Foley, Elaine Spartz, Barb Nightser, Marlys Merigan, Judy Groeneveld; front row—Beth Jensen, Mary Bies, Linda Hanneman, Jill Vreyens, and Linda Stanford.

Principal's Message

To the students of Madison Central High School:

This is your book. It gives a good history of you and your friends at the present time. Many good times and important events are pictured for you. This information will become more valuable and dear to you each time you open this book in the future.

I want to extend my thanks to the students, teachers, and employees who have made this an outstanding school year. Keep up the good work so our students can proudly say: "I am glad that I graduated from Madison Central High School."

Sincerely yours,

Please Sign My Annual

Central's Annual signing party was the first event of the school year.

If all the students worked this hard on their school-work, just think of all the honor students we would have!

The Salem brothers admire the '64 annual.

After a slight scare, the annuals were found in the basement and the Annual signing party continued as usual..

Judy Spielman and Bill Bowman are busily signing annuals.

Ron Ihler's astounding quarterbacking won him a berth on the Argus Leader's All-State Football team. Ron's superb calls led the Bulldogs to victory four times for this best season in several years.

Pro and Con

The debate season began with the Governor's Safety Conference in Pierre, Friday, November 13. Judy Groeneveld and Jim Benjamin attended this meet and took top honors, with Judy receiving a trophy for the most popular debater and Jim for the best rebuttal. Excellent ratings were awarded to all the debaters at the Springfield discussion, November 14. After compiling a beautiful record of nine wins, one loss in debate, and receiving three superiors in extemporaneous speaking, the debate team was disappointed because no trophy was awarded at the Vermillion meet. Although the team received no trophy at Aberdeen, feelings ran high because the negative team, Dan Ryan and Jody Severson, beat the as yet undefeated Minot team. As a result of the state N.F.L. meet, Judy Groeneveld will be in the national N.F.L. meet in extemporaneous speaking in Omaha, Nebraska.

These debaters are preparing to leave for the state tournament, M.H.S.'s first in years. They are Judy Groeneveld, Barb Sly, Dan Ryan, Jim Benjamin.

Congratulations and Farewells

Tom Orton shakes Coach Cal's hand for the last time, this year being the final one at Central for both of these sportsmen.

Madison's pint-sized Tom Orton, the only sub-six-footer to make the team, landed a spot on the South Dakota All-State Class A basketball team.

Central's coach, Cal Mathison, had this to say: "We are certain there is no one more deserving of the honor. It is difficult to gain the proper recognition when not playing in a state tournament or at least on a conference contending team. Tom is a small man by today's basketball standards and had to develop and master a variety of skills to attain this level of success.

"Tom is the most unselfish ball player that I have had the privilege to coach. He not only is a great scorer but his ball handling and his unselfish passing ability has gained the respect of all who play with him. This certainly has been the moral factor to our 'team' type of play."

Some of Tom Orton's accomplishments during his four years as a member of the Bulldog varsity include: played with the sophomore squad as a freshman and then gained a starting assignment with the varsity at the close of the season; has been near the top as ESD scorer all four years of participation; was an All-State second team selection last season; has led his teammates in scoring, assists, and stolen balls during the last two seasons.

All Centralites would like to take this opportunity in wishing Tom the best of luck in the future.

To the dismay of Central High School, Mr. Cal Mathison, after eight years of coaching, announced his resignation Thursday, March 11, 1965. During these years, Mr. Mathison had his share of winning teams in track, basketball, and football. He also helped many of his students to gain recognition on All-State teams.

While at Central, Cal fostered many new teams, including a sophomore football team, a junior varsity basketball team, a cross-country team, and a spring sports activity program.

In answer to the question, "Which team gave you the most satisfaction from a coaching view?" Mr. Mathison replied: "This year's team gave me the most satisfaction. They were the coachable type kids. All of them were real competitors. We have had some good teams and certainly some outstanding athletes but from the standpoint of desire to play these were the best. We had a lot of seniors riding the bench all season but they stayed right with us to the very end."

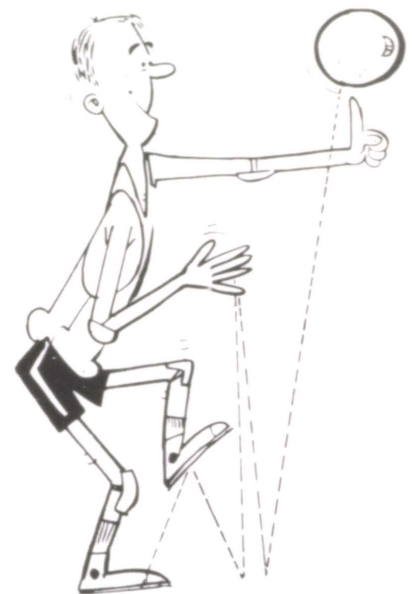

From a field of many applicants, Mr. Jim Cordts was chosen as Mr. Mathison's successor. Mr. Cordts has been very successful the past two years in his coaching duties at Howard.

The students of Central High wish to thank Mr. Mathison for everything he has done in his eight years here. Although we hate to see him go, we want to wish both him and his family success in the future.

Here Lie Future Victories

The Bullpups enjoyed a fairly successful season racking up a total of 8 wins and 12 losses. The future of the Bulldog's success in basketball lies in the experience gained by our sophomores playing in the preliminary games. Centralites all hope that in the future they may see this experience of these boys paralleled by their success.

U-Rah-Rah Madison!

Jr. Varsity Back row, left to right Hubert Piehl, Dick Boer, Bill Bruns, Coach, Herb Blakely. Second row, Alton Koistonen, Dennis Paul, Jim Bulfer, Manager Rick Jacobsen. First row, John Schneider, Bruce Olson, Greg Meyers, Bill Rush.

During the Section 2 Tournaments in Sioux Falls the joyous Madison spectators cheerfully led the Central Bulldogs to victory over our rivals, the Brookings Bobcats.

Tom Orton, Central's star player, gets off a beautiful shot in our game against the Huron Tigers.

What's so interesting over there Rog?

Yell a Little Louder

With spring, for many girls, comes cheerleading try-outs. Varsity cheerleaders are elected for the following season by majority vote of the student body. Practice for the football season begins in mid-summer. Besides cheering at home and away games, these girls are in charge of football and basketball pep rallies and Homecoming pep festivities. Varsity cheerleaders for the 1964-65 season from top to bottom are Jan Diede, Janet Crane, Jill Vreyens, Karen Neville, and Mary Hilde.

The A cheerleaders wear white outfits for home games and maroon outfits for away games which is the custom followed by most A schools.

This year's girl's quartet is composed solely of juniors. Left to right are Kathy Casey, soprano, Donilyn Johannsen, second soprano, Karen Neville, alto, and Barb Sly, second alto.

Members of the girl's quartet are picked in the fall by Miss Schroeder on the basis of voice harmonization. Besides singing at the annual Christmas program, these girls supply entertainment for various organizations around the community. The girl's quartet received first place in the Regional Vocal Contest.

Hold That Tiger

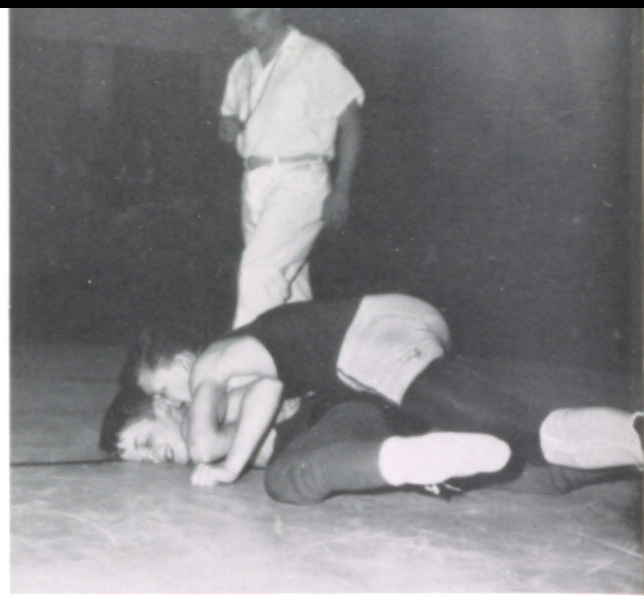

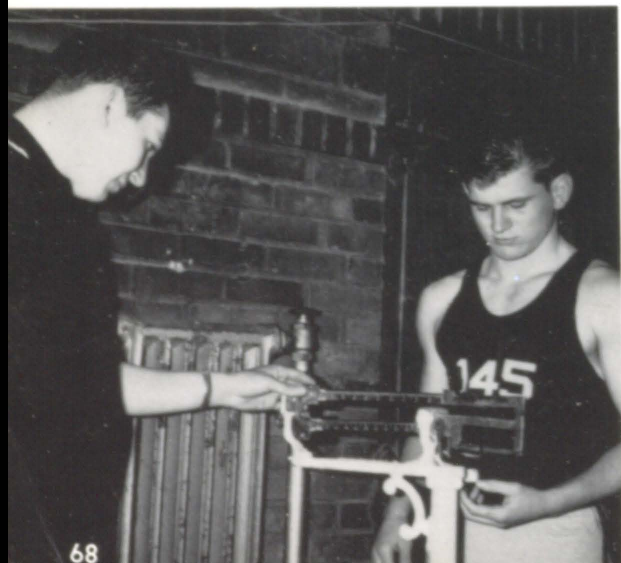

Mike Hines, the heavyweight man on our "B" team shows his enormous strength by flipping his opponent into the position for a pin.

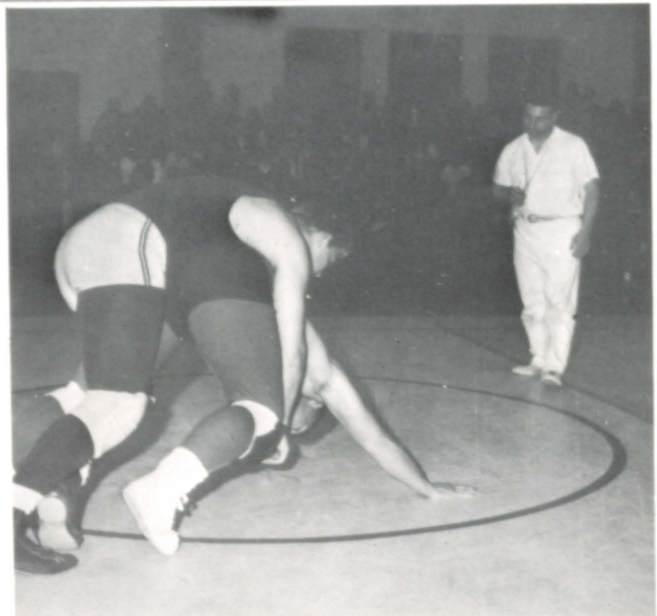

Coach Walczyk is pointing out a new technique to Ron Keever, John Collignon, and Chuck Moothart which will enable them to better themselves in wrestling competition.

Mr. Williams weighs in Ron Keever to make sure he does not exceed his weight limit for the match.

Our lightweight wrestler, Rocky Schoenrock, demonstrates a difficult hold which leads to a pin.

Heavyweight Mike Hines fights with his competitor and comes out on top for a victory.

Deck the Halls

QUEEN DIANE WILCOX

The high point of the Holiday Hop, which was sponsored by the Future Nurses' Club, was centered around a Christmas sleigh draped in red and white for the crowning of the king and queen.

KING ROGER MYERS

The dance was one of several formal dances at Central this year. The Nobles furnished the music for a well-attended affair.

Darla Lofswold manages the refreshments at the dance.

With Boughs of Holly

Da Vee Jay and the Nobles filled the air with what the younger generation classifies as music to add to the holiday spirit.

Holly, mistletoe, and snow flakes captivated the theme of the dance. The proceeds of the dance went towards FNC uniforms, civic projects, and field trips.

Streamers of red, white, and green arrayed the gymnasium and colored lights softened the air with a glow of Christmas cheer.

Turn-a-bout's Fair Play

Reigning over the Sadie Hawkin's Dance were Roxanne Frager and Steve Saufley.

Centralites were puzzled by the identity of Peggy Foley's strange escort to the Sadie Hawkin's Dance. Could it have been Marcy Draper?

Cindy Maxwell depicts Minnie Pearl.

Pep and Parties

To liven up pep meetings, the M.H.S. Pep Band directed by Mr. Virgil French, aids the cheerleaders in leading the students with cheers.

At the end of all pep meetings, the students stand and sing the cherished school song, "Loyalty."

To arouse enthusiasm for the night's game, the cheerleaders ask a favorite teacher to give a "pep" talk.

Each month the Elk's Club sponsors a youth night. There students may dance, play cards, watch television, or play ping pong.

Well, Don, maybe winning "fair and square" isn't EVERYTHING!

To end their routine, the Drill Team marches into the well known chorus line, which always brings a praising applause.

Fortune teller Shirley Hockett

Virginia Raethz was kept busy at the pie stand.

This year at Central High instead of the annual Polio Auction, a Fun Night was held at the City Armory. A fish pond, jail, and a dance were part of the activities of the night.

Dependability, Service, and Leadership

Candidates for a Daughter of the American Revolution are first chosen by our teachers, their choice being based on dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. Home, church, and school activities are also taken into consideration. From these candidates, the Seniors vote and pick one. At left is this year's D.A.R. representative from Central, Carol Terry. The aim of the sponsors of D.A.R. is to cultivate appreciation among young people for character building as a basis for good citizenship. The national winner receives a $10,000 scholarship to the college of her choice.

South Dakota Girl's State and Boy's State is an effort on the part of the American Legion Auxiliary to bring to the girls and boys of South Dakota a knowledge of the fundamental principles of the American government through actual practice and control. During a week of intensive training in citizenship and government, young people will learn that they have a responsibility in preserving the integrity of our nation, and that America's future depends mainly upon the intelligence and honesty of our youth in carrying forward the principles of our government. Boy's Staters will leave for Northern State Teachers' College, Aberdeen on May 30. Central's representatives to Boy's State are back row, left to right, Tom Farrell, Donovan Albertson, Jim Bulfer, Gary Diede, and Gary Renner. In the Misty Moonlight

Ellen Terry, mistress of ceremonies, presided over the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Steve Graff received many laughs while reading the class will.

The guest of honor and speaker for the night, Mr. Arneson, spoke on the prom theme, In the Misty Moonlight.

Senior Class President, Carol Terry, gave the Senior farewell speech.

May 15th was a date circled and underlined on the calendars of many Juniors and Seniors for it marked the date of the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. Beginning months ahead with their preparations, the Juniors successfully carried out a theme of In the Misty Moonlight by using colors of blue and silver and soft, billowy angel hair clouds. A wishing-well added to the magic of the night by adorning the center of the portion of the floor reserved for dancing. The Banquet was held in the Methodist Church basement and the dance, in the armory.

The Girl's Quartet sang two selections for entertainment at the banquet.

The Corvairs supplied the music for the long-awaited Junior-Senior Prom. Unseen, but hanging high above the heads of the band, shines a round, silvery moon, seeming to enjoy the enchantment of the night as much as any couple.

Peggy Anderson, a sophomore waitress, pours punch for Sandy Fix, while Steve Ziebarth, a waiter, looks on and drools.

Ellen Terry is one of many Juniors who will tell you that the prom wasn't all fun and no work. Here, Ellen prepares the punch stand.

Two couples enjoy the atmosphere created by the soft music and lovely decorations.

Janice Olson, Ellen Terry, and Linda Wheeler begin to decorate the wishing-well, which they charmed the Junior shop boys into building.
