Introduction

The opening section of the 1986 Interlakes reflects Madison High School and her people—their actions and reactions, lifestyles, and surroundings and the happenings that made this year one to reflect back on. p.3

Homecoming

Homecoming was enthusiastically received at MHS. Coronation, the talent show and the game will all become a part of the best of times. p.9

Events

Activities may be the same every year, however, the different people, atmosphere and moods surrounding this year's activities made them unlike others. p.16

Organizations

Involvement is a strong part of high school life for many MHS students. Through belonging to an organization members receive fun and experience. p.32

Athletics

Each athletic year can be singled out by its wins and losses. This year was no exception. p.40

Faculty

Academics at MHS involve a mixture of people teaching a variety of subjects. Regardless of differences they share a common goal—educating our youth. p.70

Classes

Your comrades, cohorts, and competitors in their learning environment. This year's class section combines portraits with an informal look at student lifestyles. p.78

Closing

Each year, though it may seem like the last, is unique. The closing section is a "Reflection on the Best of Times". p.102

Reflections

on the Best of Times

Looking for Madison High School? You'll find it in Madison, a pastoral South Dakota community. At first glance it is a quiet building sitting on the north edge of town, upon closer inspection, however, we find that it is alive with activity.

Looking for the students of Madison High School? Then look quick! They're milking cows at 6:00 a.m., paddle boating at a local lake in the late afternoon, rushing to a concert in Sioux Falls in the evening.

They're late for school, stuck behind a tractor on the highway. They're returning from a class trip to the EROS Data Center just in time to make the Drama Club bus bound for a performance of "Grease."

In the Fall, they're bicycling out to Flynn Field for a late season ball game. In the Winter, they're skidding on snow covered roads in four-wheeled drives. On the first warm night of Spring, they can be seen congregating in the parking lot of Spies. Summer, they're lying in the sun on the shores of Lake Herman.

It's the start of another day at MHS. Students gradually begin to arrive. It's 8:25. Students are in class ready to start the day's work. In the principal's office, secretary Jenny Ullrich huddles around the P.A. microphone. Principal Glen Wilbur and Secretary Diane Aus can be heard in the background. Ullrich is about to announce the daily bulletins consisting mostly of scores, schedules and announcements. Challenges to attend sporting events are also included. Listen closely.

"Lunch menu for today is spaghetti with meat sauce, green beans, French bread, lime jello with pears and milk."

"All students interested in working tech. With the one act play should meet in room G2 at 3:15, Wednesday. Be sure to be at the meeting for your assignment and schedule."

"Seniors planning on writing the February ACT Test. The deadline is Friday."

"Reminder that this evening is the Elks Dance."

"There will be debate after school this evening."

"A reminder to attend the Big 8 basketball tourney this weekend in Brandon and to support our Bulldogs."

But a full schedule of courses lie between now and 3:15. Madison runs on a five day schedule. Each day is divided into seven fifty minute periods. Students can choose from classes in English, social studies, mathematics, science, agriculture, voc. studies, art, business, foreign language, band, health and physical ed., and vocal music. If the students have a study hall, they are free to take advantage of the library. At noon when the noon hour begins, the halls are open, one, to Seniors only.

You can't miss Senior Hallway. It's crowded. It's noisy. But it's a place for students (mostly, if not exclusively, seniors) to go when they don't want to eat or when they don't want to be hushed by the librarian. They just want to talk to their friends.

Looking for underclassmen at MHS? Look closely down the other crowded hallways. They're preppies and they're farmers. Sometimes they're both. It is not surprising to find out the president of the FFA also aspires to be a doctor. They're jocks and they're music fanatics.

3:15 arrives. The extra-curricular extravaganza is about to begin. You can see the mental calculations going on inside each student's head. "Let's see, if I study for 15 minutes, then I can run over to the auditorium for play practice, then I can head down to the locker room to change for practice, but then I'll miss the yearbook meeting ...

Night time activities such as basketball, play rehearsal and parties are a big part of school life. Talk, the next day is centered on the previous night's events. Looking for good times? They're here. And they're on the following pages as we look back and reflect on the good times ... parties, games, friends, "the Smokehouse", birthdays, holidays, Mr. Reitzel's class, vacation, Easter break, snow days, A's on Mr. Connor's test, Friday's, speeches for Mr. Miller, homecoming, tournaments, early morning practices with Mr. Haenfler, prom and graduation.

Homecoming Electrifies School Week!

The tedium of regular day to day classes had set in. Sleep was beginning to overcome the less resistant 3rd period study hall students. Classes seemed to stretch from minutes into hours. Detention hovered over all.—And then, bang! The celebration begins.

Homecoming activities kicked off on Monday, September 23 with "Hat and Sucker Day." Students were allowed to wear their favorite hat while treating themselves to lollipops.

Sylvester Stallone clones were out in full force on "Rambo Day."

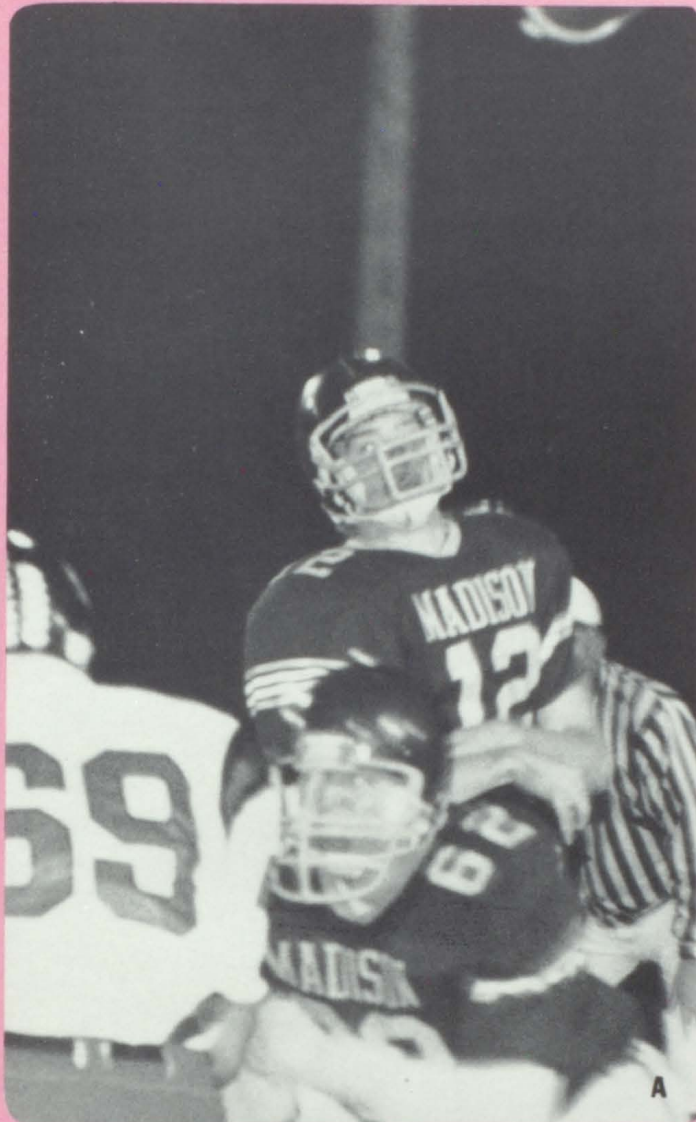

"Nerd Day", Wednesday, everyone was at their best (worst?) as they wandered the halls dressed as their favorite nerd.

Thursday was dubbed as "Hawaiian Day" and a large percentage of Bulldogs donned a spectrum of multi-color shirts to brighten up the week.

With Friday's arrival, classes were dismissed at 2:21 for the pep rally and tug-of-war. The Sophomore girls came out on top of their gender division with the Senior guys taking top honors in the "macho" division.

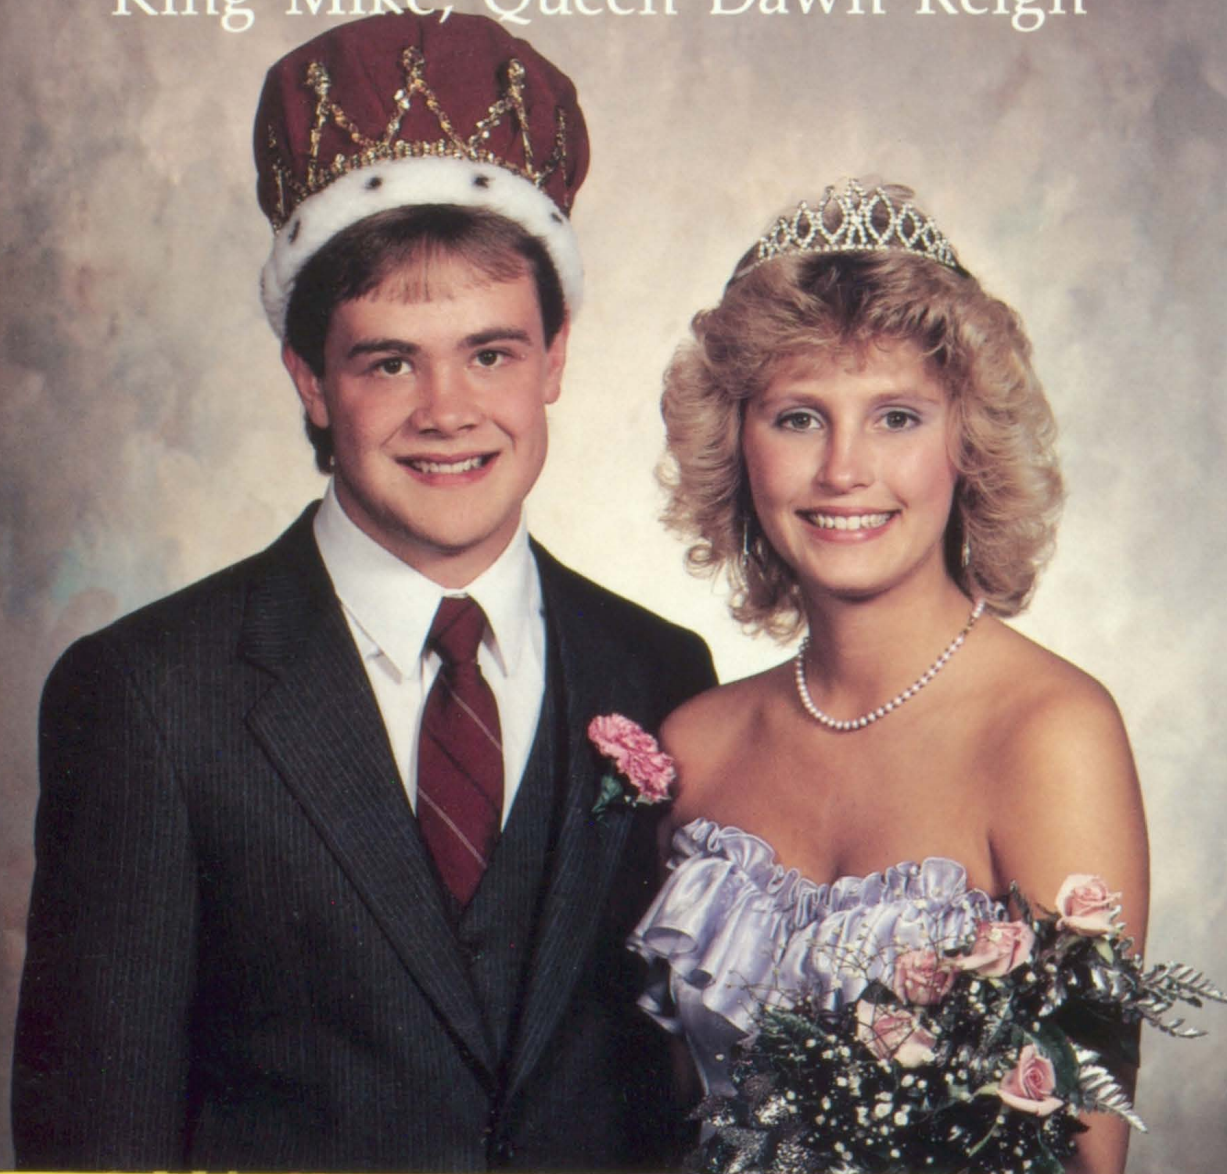

The Chamberlain Cubs put a damper on the Homecoming spirits by defeating the 'Dogs 6-12 that night. Half-time entertainment was provided by the Spirit of Madison High School Band with a dazzling display of musical talent. Following the game a Homecoming social was held in the school gymnasium which capped the weeks activities.

- A. Quarterback Paul Engel attempts a pass through the tough defense of the Chamberlain Cubs.
- B. This group of "Bleacher Bums" withstood near freezing weather Homecoming night to enjoy the game.
- C. Ryker Lammers, Andy Zerfas and Brian Rankin add the finishing touches to the "Cubs" clubhouse.

King Mike, Queen Dawn Reign

- A. King Mike Weiland and Queen Dawn Balogh.
- B. Homecoming candidates; Ryker Lammers, Dawn DeJabet, Sam Kirstein, Stacey Strom, Richard Westall, Robin Riedel, Rob Haug, Dawn Jung, Mike Weiland, and Dawn Balogh.
- C. Mistress of ceremonies Pam George and escort Andy Zervas after the excitement.
- D. Heidi Lange lifts spirits at bonfire.
- E. 1985 Homecoming Queen Roxy Bamsey congratulates her predecessor Dawn Balogh.

Coronation ceremonies began at 7:30 Tuesday night. Pink, burgandy, and silver were chosen to color this years homecoming theme "The Best of Times '85."

Excitement raised when Dawn Balogh and Mike Weiland were crowned king and queen. Other royal candidates were Sam Kirstein, Stacey Strom, Rob Haug, Dawn Jung, Ryker Lammers, Dawn DaJabet, Richard Westall, and Robin Riedel.

Pam George was mistress of ceremonies and Andy Zervas was the escort for the nights activities.

Jeff and Marlee Venekamp sang "The Best of Times" and was accompanied by Max Richter on the piano. After the coronation was the annual bonfire and snake dance.

Leading off the weeks festivities was the annual MHS talent show consisting of seven acts hosted by Mark Bender and Rob Haug.

First on the program was last years second place winner, Karizma. They sang "Walking on Sunshine" and "Queen of Hearts."

Following Karizma was Tired Crates with a mimic to the song "Money Ain't for Nothing."

Next in line was a short concert given by the Kazoo Corps, a few senior guys on kazoos. They played "Pop Goes the Weasel" and "the Adams Family."

The next act was an instrumental by Jacque Bohl and Cory Callies, Together they played "Annie's Song."

After Jacque and Cory's performance was the "Macadamia Club" doing "Tainted Love." The singers were Cory Heidelberger and W. Allan Seaver III.

Sixth on the program was a skit by Tim Ewald entitled "At the Movies with Siskel and Ebert." They reviewed "Friday the 13th Part 7."

In the final act, the football cheerleaders performed the "Hokey Pokey School Song" with the accompaniment of the Kazoo Corps.

The results of the talent show were: first place—Jacque Bohl and Cory Callies, second place—Karizman, third place—Kazoo Corps.

A. Tim Barthel bellows out, "I want my MTV." B. Chris Waba and "Money Ain't for Nothing." C. The cheerleaders accompanied by the Kazoo Corps do the routine to the school song. D. The talent show was hosted by Mark Bender and Rob Haug. E. Mimiking the song "Tainted Love" was Cory Heidelberger and W. Allan Seaver III. F. The Kazoo Corps performed during the talent show and other sporting events throughout the year.

Bonfire Ignites Crowd

- A. Karisma livens up the crowd before pep rally.
- B. Cheerleaders arouse spirit for homecoming game.
- C. Steve Barker plays in pep band.
- D. Mike and Paula harmonize together at bonfire.
- E. The winners of the wet t-shirt contest are C. Waba and T. Bloom.
- F. Warming up together by the bonfire are several chilled fans.

MHS Theatre presents

People In The Wind

Madison High School presented "People in the Wind" in the State One-Act Play Festival at Riggs High School in Pierre, SD.

"People in the Wind" by William Inge, is set in a small bus stop cafe in the 1950's in Kansas. Inge wrote the play shortly after his comedy "Bus Stop" to show the dramatic side of the show.

The show rated a superior Division I, Class A competition held in Watertown on January 27. The cast competed against five other schools with enrollment of 400 or more. Sue Mueller and Becky Johnson received superior supporting actor awards for their portrayal of two elderly women.

State competition took place February 6-8. While the actors were busy with make-up, the crew was equally as busy setting up the set. The complete set and all of the props were to be in place in 15 minutes and then dismantled in 15 minutes.

According to director and set designer Jim Miller, "The festival was a memorable experience for everyone involved. The productions showed a great variety of approaches to academic theatre in South Dakota."

- A. Martin Nussbaum confesses that "It's long long road to sobriety."
- B. David Bice and Nikki Petersen confront each other at the bus stop.
- C. Ranchhand, D. Bice, asks showgirl, N. Petersen, "What's wrong with being a farm wife?"
- D. Set crew for "PITW" poses for a picture outside the Riggs Theatre in Pierre after unloading the set. The state capitol is in the background
- E. M. Nelson as Emma takes orders from two elderly ladies played by B. Johnson and S. Muller.

B. The Judge, (Max Richter), sentences Toad to twenty years in prison with the Clerk of Court's, (Meridith Schlisner), and the Sergeant's, (Shonda Reed), approval.

C. Toad begins another long-winded speech which the Badger, (Jeff Venekamp), Ratty, (Colleen Lang), and Mole, (Susan Schrepel), are not interested in.

D. Ratty and Mole discuss Toad's exploit's as the town folk look on.

E. Toad suffers from "Motor-Car Fever" and is confined to bed by his friends and Housekeeper, (Pam George).

"WIND IN THE WILLOWS" PERFORMED

It was a 'Night of ½ of a Hundred Stars' as the Madison High School Theatre Department presented Kenneth Grahame's "Wind in the Willows", May 1, 2 and 3. Over 50 MHS students were involved in the show that spanned a rehearsal period of nine and one half weeks.

The story takes place in a remote part of Great Britain and concerns itself with the exploits of Toad of Toad Hall, (Cory Heidelberger) and his on going pursuit of his latest hobby; Motor Cars. His friends Mole, Ratty, and Badger, (Susan Schrepel, Colleen Lang, Jeff Venekamp) try to convince him of the folly of his ways. In their efforts, they meet up with the Chief Weasel and his fellow cohorts—the Foxes and the Weasels.

Heading up the entire production was Mr. J. "Doc" Miller in the dual role of director and set designer. Ms. Nancy Edwards was in charge of musical direction and Mr. Stuart Lickteig assisted in bringing the technical aspects of the show together. Patty Mauf served as the assistant to the director.

Musicians for the show were Jackie Bohl, Denise Ziebarth, Dorin Hemmelman, Mrs. Sandy Cole and Ms. Edwards.

Erich Gilbert headed up the list of technical workers. He and a host of other "techies" built the wild woods as well as several homes for the animals.

Like all other good teams, the cast of WITW had to spend a good deal of time practicing to bring all elements together for a good production. The cast spent 9 and ½ weeks memorizing lines, blocking scenes and developing characters. They also would spend many Saturdays painting woods, building trees and setting lights. All of this work is needed to bring the best possible show to the stage.

The Madison High School Choir began the year with another record enrollment of 51 students. The group grew to 57 students after the first semester. The year began with preparations for All State Chorus, held in Huron, S.D., on November 8th and 9th. Twelve students were selected to attend. Instead of combining concerts with the junior high the high school gave their own winter concert this year. Spring was contest time, and again the choir set new records with 44 entries in solo and ensemble contests having 3 entries in large group contest instead of the usual one. The final performance for the choir was the spring concert. At the end of the year the choir traveled to Chanhassen, Minnesota, to see, "A Chorus Line" and spend a day at ValleyFair.

It is final. The MHS band has been invited to participate in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. director, Eric Haenfler, notified his band students that pending the raising of sufficient funds the band will be in New York on Thanksgiving Day to participate in the annual Macy Day Parade. This should climax a highly successful and enjoyable career for many band students that have spent numerous hours since early in elementary grades blowing a horn or beating on a drum. The MHS band opened the year performing at a USD football game in the Dakota Dome. After numerous fall contest, the band held a winter concert and followed up by performing for fans who came to support them at their annual turkey dinner. After a May concert the band closed out the school year with freshmen and sophomore band students playing at graduation.

The 1985-86 debate season began slowly with competition at SDSU and Beresford which yielded no trophies. However, by the third tournament things began to change. At the Aberdeen Ringneck Tournament in December the champ team of Tim Ewald and Brett Carlson won third; Heather Means placed first in Novice Oratory; Rebecca Johnson placed fourth in Dramatic Interpretation; Monica Nelson placed fourth in Humorous Interpretation; Michael Paulukonis placed fifth in Novice Extemp. In December the squad also traveled to Brookings to compete in the Brookings Bell Tournament where Rebecca was first in Drama; Heather was second in Novice Oratory. And the novice debate team of Heather, Monica, Mike and Ryan placed fourth. The competition began in earnest in January with a trip to Sioux Falls for the Lincoln Silverbowl Tournament. Competing against 34 schools from 4 states, the MHS debaters did very well.

During the year the team competed in a dozen debate tournaments bringing home numerous trophies. Winding down the season at the Regional Debate Tournament in Huron, Tim Ewald and Brett Carlson placed first in the champ debate; Heather placed first in Oratory; Jeanelle placed second in Domestic Extemp, which allowed them to compete at the State Debate Tournament in Aberdeen. Jeanelle was in the Extemp finals at State, and Tim and Brett competed through the fourth round. At East River Student Congress in Brookings, Heather was elected as presiding officer. At the State Student Congress in Pierre, Tim Ewald was nominated as superior speaker in Model Legislature. It was announced at State Student Congress that Tim received the D.C. Reutter Award naming him one of the top four senior debaters in South Dakota.

NFL: SUPPORTING RHETORICIANS

The NFL or National Forensic League, is a national organization which recognizes high school students and coaches involved in speech events. A student becomes an NFL member by accumulating points earned through competition in debate or individual events. The student works his way through a series of degrees until he reaches the double ruby degree which takes a total of 500 points. The double ruby cannot be reached unless the member has earned 250 points in debate and 250 points in individual events respectively. Students who hold the double ruby degree at MHS are Max Richter, Jeanelle Robson, Laura Meyer, Rebecca Johnson, and Heather Means

NHS: Making the Grade

Nineteen new members were inducted into the National Honor Society on Tuesday, March 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The National Honor Society is an organization that recognizes high scholastic achievement among high school juniors and seniors. In order to be eligible, a student must maintain a 3.4 grade point average and be selected by a faculty committee. Honesty, integrity and character are also qualities required for membership in the National Honor Society. Tim Ewald, Student Body President, acted as Master of ceremonies at this year's induction ceremony. Several selections were played by Max Richter. Dr. Clyde Brashier, science teacher at Dakota State College, gave the address. The evening was concluded with lunch served in the school library.

INTERLAKES '86: STRIVES FOR QUALITY

The Annual Staff is working hard in the hopes of publishing one of MHS's finer annuals. With assistance of Stuart Lickteig, former editor of several Dakota State publications, new ideas have been implemented into the 1985-1986 annual. Editors Rhonda Hopf and Tim Connor are directing one of the larger staffs in years to work on an annual. When it comes to the nitty-gritty hard work, it is Rhonda Hopf, whom Advisor John Lang says we can thank for getting things done. Photographer, Tim Connor sometimes becomes frustrated when the school Pentax camera will not operate on full automatic. Tim has difficulty in understanding why Mr. Lang thinks he has to justify to Business Manager Begeman, the five hundred percent increase in film purchased this year.

THE MAROON: Journalism with Wit

A. Lori H., Tim E., and Advisor Nancy Kroese get the next issue of the Maroon ready for publishing.

Beware—If you care to be portrayed in the Maroon in a favorable light, you might make sure that you stay on the good side of Tim Ewald and his school paper staff. Tim and staff have published several editions of satire this year. They have provided amusing reading for most students. Still some individuals do not always find the Maroon to their liking. Most journalism students admit that the staff is blessed with outstanding journalism talents, but pray that Tim and company will write about their friends. Maybe, we have another Art Buchwald in our midst.

FFA: Not Just Farming

Madison's FFA members believe in becoming involved in activities on the state and national level. In November Brian Hodne and Brian Tonsager journeyed to Kansas City, Missouri, to participate in the National FFA Convention. Jody Bergheim has brought home numerous honors for the local chapter when selected as Star District Agribusiness man and State Farmer. Jody also placed in the state proficiency for agriculture mechanics. FFA members also took part in livestock judging schools in Brookings, DeSmet, and Sioux Falls, and land judging contests in Lake Preston and quarter horse judging contests. In April a delegation of members represented Madison at the State Convention.

FHA: Celebrating 41 Years

Future Homemakers of America is celebrating forty-one years as an organization. FHA was established to develop successful family living and social skills in young people. It also works to promote leadership and social roles among its participants by sponsoring numerous projects that involve these skills. The projects are initiated and conducted by the FHA members and their advisors. FHA urges its members to grow in decision making, assuming responsibility and developing occupational skills. The Madison High School FHA organization has had a very active year during 1985-1986.

ART CLUB: Talents Recognized

The Art Club is a new and thriving group at MHS. Recently four of its members were honored by having their works published in "Prairie Winds", a state publication that honor writers and artists. Art classes have enabled numerous MHS students to discover talents they never knew they possessed.

During the school year the Art Club assists the Community Arts Association in their various productions. The group also sponsors trips for its members to various art galleries and the Sioux Falls Civic Art Center. Members assist in the set-up and host the Annual Spring Art Show.

STUDENT COUNCIL: Activities Organizers

The purpose of the Student Council is to give the student body a voice in school activities, events and policy. The process involved allows the students to exercise democratic self-government under practical conditions. This creates an atmosphere of interest in the welfare of the school and a pride in the school's objectives and achievements. At present, the Student Council is involved in various activities such as the Homecoming, Pride workshop and school assemblies. Recognition of scholastic excellence by the Student Council is reflected in its sponsorship of the National Honor Society is also dedicated to serving the community as well as the school.

FBLA: Developing Skills and Character

FBLA is a national vocational education organization for high school students enrolled in business and office education classes or programs. The activities of FBLA provide students with educational, vocational, and leadership opportunities and experiences. It also provides an opportunity for members to learn the value of competition on local, region, and national levels through competitive events that develop occupational skills as well as character and leadership abilities.

This year the State Leadership Conference was held in Rapid City with 22 members attending. Stacia Serfling placed third in accounting I and the spelling relay team of Kellie Hamlin, Kristi Hughes and Kristy Hulm placed third. The 1986 National Leadership Conference will be held in Washington, D.C. in July.

1985-86 FBLA officers are: Lisa Greene—President, Kristi Hughes—Vice President, Julie Ritzman—Secretary, Lisa Hodne—Treasurer, Pam O'Loughlen—Reporter, Lisa French—Parliamentarian.

DRILL TEAM: High Steppin' Gals

Madison's Drill Team provided the half-time entertainment at numerous athletic events during the year. They were led by team captain GayLynn Pitts and co-captains Danna Rector and Kristy Hulm. The girls added additional delight to an evening of entertainment for Madison sport fans. The favorite song preferred by the girls was Barbara Ann. In order to add to the evening of performing the team members usually started the evening or concluded it with a pizza party.

A. Hard work really does pay off.

CHEERLEADERS ASSUME MANY ROLES

Who are the gals who cheer us on? The Cheerleaders! Who are the gals who are always there whether we win or lose? The Cheerleaders! Who are the gals who cry when we lose the big ones? The Cheerleaders! Guess who are the biggest fans? The Cheerleaders!

As the athletic program has expanded at MHS over the past years so also have the cheerleading chores. At one time four or five girls were selected to handle the duties of leading MHS fans in support of their athletic teams. In those days only boys were involved in organized sports. As the athletic program has grown to include additional boys' programs and a whole line of athletic events for girls, so has the need for additional cheerleaders. Madison

High School presently has 26 girls involved in cheering on the various boys' and girls' athletic teams. The athletes of MHS are grateful to the many girls for the long hours of practice and dedication that they have shown in cheering for their teams.

This years gymnastics team consisted of a group of hard working girls. Coach Joyce Farrell also commented that the team was very young this year.

The highlights of the season were the high team score of 110 points at the Madison-Yankton dual meet and having three girls qualify for the state meet at Rapid City. Those girls who qualified were Leslie Stout on the uneven bars; Denise Ziebarth on the balance beam and floor; Jeni Wenk on the balance beam, floor, vault and uneven bars. Denise placed 10th on the balance beam. Jeni Wenk placed 10th on vault and 8th on floor.

BOYS CROSS-COUNTRY CAPTURES 4TH

The Cross Country Team completed a highly successful season. The boys team consisted of mostly experienced runners. They finished 2nd in the Regionals which was 9 points behind Lennox who captured the state title. At the State meet our runners brought home 4th place honors. The girls team, although very young, completed a very successful season by winning the Regional Championship when they defeated Lennox. In State Competition the girls earned a 9th place finish.

GRIDDERS HAVE TOUGH SEASON

The MHS Bulldogs struggled through a tough season as they competed against a schedule of well seasoned teams. The Bulldogs started the season with few seniors and to add to their woes were plagued with a rash of injuries. Their opponents gave the Bulldogs little rest as all of them fought their way into the state playoffs.

Although the season was characterized by losses, the year provided a chance for the team to grow and to gain experience both athletically and personally. Coach Ditterlee added that the year was a time for rebuilding as he will have eighteen returning seniors with game experience under their belts.

Senior Tom Bloom was voted the team's Most Valuable Player and Leo Kappenman, a junior, was named as the team's Offensive Player of the Year.

Madison, fielding a young group of golfers ended the season by qualifying Chris Blase and Trevor Thielbar for the State Golf Meet. The Madison squad in eight meets brought home two—1st place wins, one—second place and two—3rd place finishes. The squad consisting of twelve members made an excellent showing for Coach Gordy Anderson. Chris Blase was voted most valuable golfer with a 44 stroke average. Coach Anderson has high praise for his youthful squad and is expecting greater things next year.

"Play hard and have fun is the goal of the Girls' Tennis Team. What we learn here we can enjoy the rest of our life." The MHS Girls' Tennis Team has not established any great winning records over the years but those who participate enjoy the sport and hope to be active participants all during their adult life. Madison High School is the smallest school in S.D. that fields a high school girls' tennis team. The girls are competing against teams from Lincoln High School, Watertown and Mitchell to name a few. Many of the girls from these schools are able to play tennis year-round in indoor facilities.

Having to continually compete against these odds our girls do very well. What they lack in ability they make up for in sportsmanship and spirit.

GIRLS COMPLETE BEST SEASON

The MHS basketball team finished their most successful season since the game was first established as a varsity sport. The girls ended the season with a 12 win 11 loss record. The basketball team showed steady improvement as the year progressed. Big victories were recorded late in the season with wins over Lennox and West Central who were rated among the top ten teams in the state. The girls earned themselves a place in district play and continued on for a second place in region competition only to be defeated by Tri-Valley who later placed second in State Tournament Competition. Coach Doug Sims is looking forward to next year as he feels he has a nucleus of excellent returning lettermen.

BASKETBALL TEAM WINS FINAL GAME

The Bulldogs completed the 1985-86 season on a winning note by downing the Dell Rapids Quarriers 49 to 48 on a last second shot by guard, Sam Kirstein. Kirstein's shot sent the Bulldogs to the showers in a joyous mood with the hopes of continuing the winning technique during the 86-87 season. The Bulldogs, after having completed a difficult season are looking ahead to next year with the addition of several strong sophomore players and the returning lettermen from this year's squad.

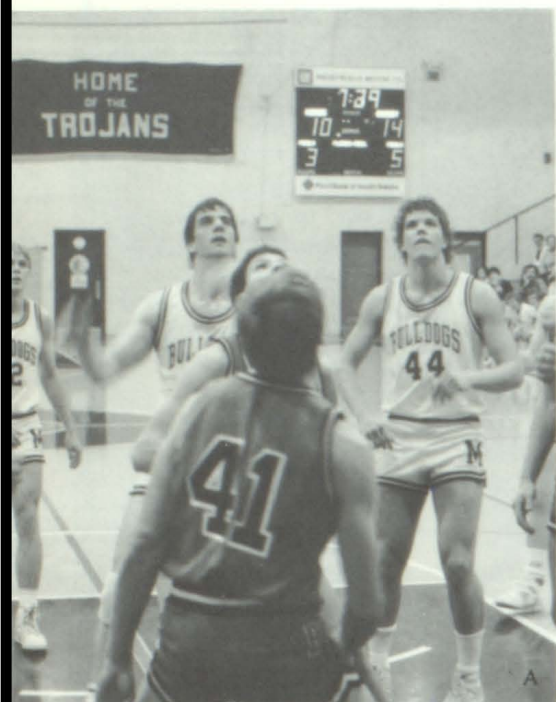

It appears Coach Tom Osterberg will have a strong nucleus around which to build a winning team.

Girls Volleyball has established itself as a sport to be taken seriously after the varsity ended the season with a 10 win and 14 losses. Not to be outdone was a J.V. Team that posted a season record of 14 wins and 3 losses. With 5 returning lettermen and a strong J.V. team the MHS girls are placing all opponents on early notice of their intentions for next year. This year's team completed the most successful season since the sport was first established at MHS and the Lady Bulldogs plan to continue the winning habit established by the varsity. Several of the highlights of the season were a fifth place finish in the Huron Tourney, a second place finish in the DSC Tourney. Also a late season upset over Brookings, always considered a powerhouse, raised the girls spirits.

WRESTLERS HAVE WINNING SEASON

Wrestling at MHS came into its own this past season as the matmen placed 11th in the State A Tournament with a total of 51½ points. The Bulldogs ended the year with the best wrestling record in the 21 year history of the sport.

The Bulldog matmen had seven wrestlers qualify for the state meet. Tom Bloom, Donnie Sites, and Jim Ritzman all received 4th place awards at the State Tournament.

During the season the squad suffered the loss of one of its greatest fans with the passing of Frank Bloom, father of Tom Bloom. Frank will long be remembered in wrestling circles for his financial support of the wrestling team and his presence, encouragement, and friendship to the MHS wrestlers.

The MHS Boys Track Team established a 1st for the school by placing 2nd in the State A Meet. This is the best showing that a Madison Team has ever made in a state track meet. The boys entered state competition after winning the region meet and winning 7 of 10 meets during the regular season. Not to be outdone the girls track team placed 2nd in the region and won the highly competitive Madison Invitational meet. The girls sprint team of Denise Hojnacke, Joanne O'Loughlen, Tammy Sterzinger and Michelle Russell placed 2nd in the State Girls Spring Medley and established a new school record of 4:23.7. The boys team of Sam Kirstein, Jeff Venekamp, Ryker Lammers and Scott Heckenliable also established a new state record for the 3200 meter State A Relay. Tammy Sterzinger won the state long jump while setting a school record of 17½ feet. Voted most valuable members were Scott Heckenliable and Tammy Sterzinger.

TENNIS TEAM PROVES HIGHLY COMPETITIVE

The 1986 Bulldog tennis team was one of the most experienced squads that Coach Doug Sims had at MHS in recent years. The team proved to be very competitive despite a losing win-loss record. In flight one singles, returning MVP

Tim Ewald posted a 3-7 record with wins over Mitchell twice and Brandon Valley. The senior also lost two close matches to Watertown. Roger Olson, also a senior had a 2-8 record in flight two, recording wins over Mitchell and Brandon Valley. Olson had close contests with S.F. Washington, Brookings, and Yankton but failed to win these matches. Mike Benning was the third flight player for MHS.

Senior Mark Bender, playing fourth flight singles, had a 3-7 record. The two final varsity spots and the exhibition position were mixed throughout the year between sophomore Ryan Geinapp and freshmen Trevor Theilbar and James Hueners. The doubles team of Ewald and Olson enjoyed a good year by posting a 3-7 record.

STUDENTS ENJOY INTRAMURALS

The Intramural season came to a close with the crowning of three championship teams. Leading the freshmen and sophomore boys to the championship finals was dead eye David Nelson.

Although one of the smaller players in intramural competition, David spread fear among his opponents with his deadly shooting ability. On the Junior and Senior boys squad it was Scott Heckenliable who dazzled the crowd with his dribbling antics. Scott on numerous occasions would dribble up the back of an opponent under the basket to slam in his famous dunk shot. Not to be outdone by the performance of the boys, Cherie Klosterman led the girls to the championship. Cherie's rough-tumble play under the basket kept all opponents out of shooting range. Cherie's team held most opponents scoreless on their route to the championship.

Junior and Senior Champions—Back row: Thad Maroon, Scott Heckenliable, Bob Maxwell

Wilbur to Retire;
School 'Loses' Respected Leader

Glen Wilbur, principal at MHS for the past eighteen years, plans to retire from the day to day chores of operating the high school in order to presume his first love—golfing. Glen, who was born in Seattle Washington on April 9th, 1925, came to South Dakota after World War II when he enrolled at the University of South Dakota. He earned bachelors and masters degrees in education and administration at the University and took his first job at Madison Lincoln Elementary School, teaching 7th and 8th grade. From Lincoln he moved to the junior high as principal and then on to Madison High School. Glen has served the Madison High School System for a total of thirty-four years. Glen will be sorely missed by the many students, who have experienced his leadership, and by the faculty members who have served under him. All who have known him will remember him for his kind and gentle nature and his fair treatment of students and faculty. Glen and his wife, Betty, plan to remain in the Madison community. They hope to spend time golfing, fishing, and visiting his son, daughter, and grandchildren. The faculty, students, and the Madison community wish Glen many years of happiness in his retirement.

Administration Faculty Strives For Excellence In Education

Everyday for 180 days out of the year, teachers come to Lake Central High School before 8:00 a.m. to prepare for the coming day. From 8:30 a.m. to 3:15 our teachers will be helping the students to learn new things and to help themselves. Then after school is finished they will stay around for another hour in case any students need additional help.

The teachers in Madison are very dedicated and always strive to promote education. South Dakota ranks in the top half of the States with regard to quality of education, and it is easy to see that our teachers are the reason for this laudable achievement.

The Juniors were involved in many events throughout the year. Some of these included band, choir, FFA, FHA, basketball, track, cheerleading, football, wrestling, volleyball, golf, debate and declam.

They participated in a variety of classes their junior year. Classes required for the juniors were English II and American History. Other classes taken were chemistry, algebra II, accounting, auto mech. and foreign language.

Cooperation was a necessity for the Juniors in planning for the prom. This brought them together to work as a class.

Overall they had a great year learning and working with each other. They anxiously await the arrival of their senior year.

For the Class of 1986, the year marked the end of the beginning. However, they will not leave the school without memories that will be cherished for always. Memories of good times, special friends, and the pressure of facing the future.

For the class of 1986, this year marked the beginning of the end. It was a year for laughter, good times, best friends, and special moments. It was also a year for tears and sorrow as each passing day brought them closer to graduation and the separate paths that each senior would follow.

All through high school, each student looks forward to their senior year. This year's graduating class was no exception. Not to be outdone by any class before them, this year's seniors started out the year by blowing up a toilet in the men's bathroom. Also on the list of cherished memories is the Junior Bash, when they fully realized that they had finally made it to their senior year.

PROM PRODUCES PRECIOUS MOMENTS

A. Seniors enjoying banquet program.

B. Junior President Colleen Lang and Senior President Max Richter.

C. Tammy Lundholm and Roger Olson reigned as Prom King and Queen.

D. Seniors having a laugh before the banquet begins.

E. Pam O'Loughlen and Marla Johnson were the waitresses at Prom.

"Precious Moments" were made on the night of May 17th by over one hundred couples at the Junior-Senior Prom. The evening started with the Senior Banquet at 6:30. From 8:30 to 12:00, Juniors and Seniors and their dates enjoyed the music of Image at the prom. Tammy Lundholm and Roger Olson were crowned King and Queen of the prom. This year, unlike others, an organized party was held for prom goers after the dance. The Madison Pride Organization sponsored an After Prom Party with local merchants providing meals and prizes. Grand prizes for the evening were a color t.v. won by Roger Olson, a VCR won by Sara Leighton and a ghettoblaster won by Donnie Sites. A good time was had by all.

GRADUATION

To the majority of MHS students May 25, was simply graduation. To the 96 graduates, the day represented a turning point in their lives. It was a day to reflect the past as well as anticipate the future. It was a time to reflect on the laughter of friends. It was also a time to recall the frustrations of the last four years.

As each graduate received their diploma, a well deserved sense of pride appeared on their faces. After four years of semester tests, countless ball games, and Advanced Comp. research papers, two proms, a toilet bombing, and an endless list of required courses—the work was over.

In terms of the future you have completed the foundation. Now comes the time to take your experience, intelligence and ambition and create your life. The joy is just beginning. For this you deserve luck.

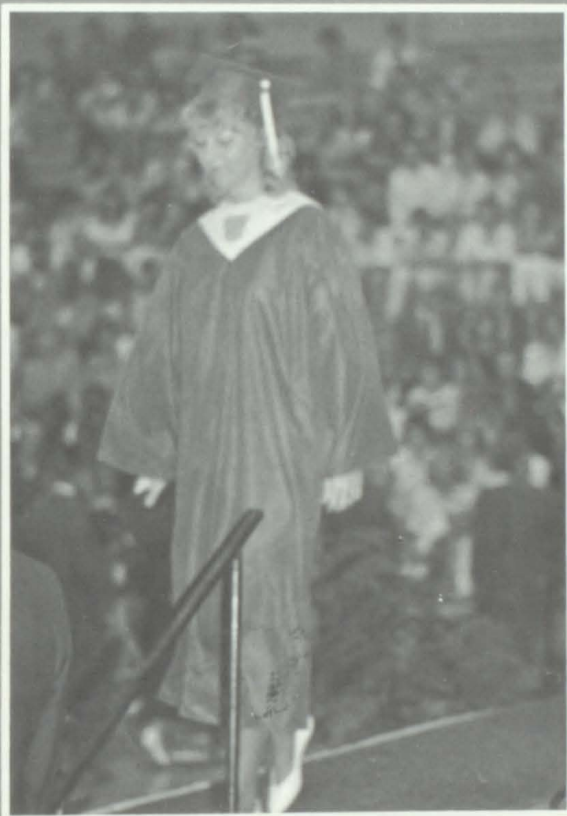

You have now accepted the responsibility of continuing to make our country and world an enjoyable and productive place to live. For this you deserve support.

Finally, you have done something recorded by all as a great accomplishment. You have proven that you can achieve. For this you deserve admiration.

Memories Found In 1985-86 School Year

As we draw to the end of another year, one must stop to reflect back on all of the memories made during the 1985-86 school year. Who will ever forget the sole football victory at the end of the year or Sam Kirstein's last second shot at the buzzer during the district basketball tourney. Our cross country team finished fourth in the state and our track team are the state runner-up champions, proving that Madison High does have its share of outstanding athletes. Declam and debate both had successful years as over 25 trophies were collected and Tim Ewald was named one of the top four debaters in the state. Memories of Cory Heidelberger and Pam George quickly come to mind as we recall the spring play and Tom Bloom was awarded the Westberg Award at the State Wrestling Tourney for his 60-win 4-loss record throughout the season.

- H. Watch the little birdie

Academically, students were also recognized. Over a dozen students were selected as delegates to attend Boy's and Girl's State. Brett Carlson was chosen to spend several weeks in Japan and Richard Westall was chosen as a National Merit Finalist. Madison's Olympic of the Mind team competed in the national tournament in Flagstaff, Arizona and several seniors received thousands of dollars in scholarships to their respective colleges.

On the national level, reflections were cast on the crew of the Challenger space shuttle. Christie McAuliffe, a teacher, was one of the seven astronauts killed in the mission. Celebrities came together to help the unfortunate during a 12-hour concert. Live Aid was broadcast to millions of people around the world and profits were used to feed the starving. Terrorism reached a climax when President Ronald Reagan ordered the bombing of Tripoli, Libya, home of Momar El Ghadafi a supporter of anti-American terrorism.

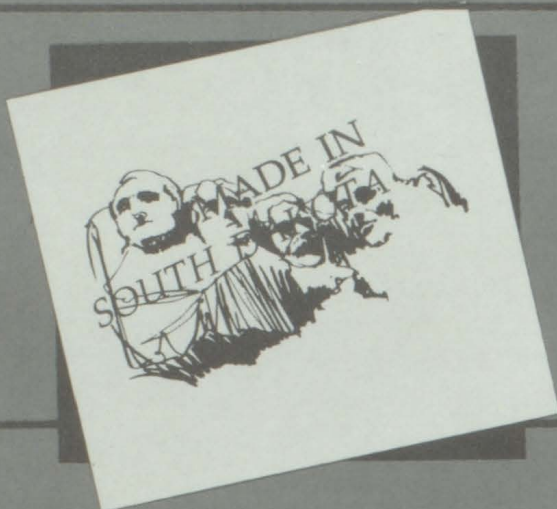

Disaster also loomed in the Soviet Union as a leak was discovered at a nuclear plant in Chernobyl. The fatality rate was an unofficial twenty-three.

No matter how we look at it the year was filled with many memories both good and bad. The people who make up MHS, the students, teachers and administrators, will remember these memories as reflections on the best of times.

The 1986 Interlakes was published by Madison High School students of the Lake Central School District in Madison, SD under the guidance of John Lang and Stuart Lickteig.

Inter-Collegiate Press printed the 112 page book on 70 pound matte stock. Spot color in the Opening and Homecoming section is 100% magenta #18. The cover, designed by Stuart Lickteig, is 100% maroon with silver embossed artwork created by Jill Frederick.

Headlines are set in 24 pt. Malibu. The Opening and Closing sections are 24 pt. Malibu. Captions are set in 8 pt. type.

Class portraits were taken by National School Studios of Tea SD. Color photography in the Homecoming section were taken and processed by Reetz Studio of Madison. Black and white film processing and printing was done by Reetz Studio and D.C. Photography.

Editors for the 1986 Interlakes were Rhonda Hopf and Tim Connor.

Press run for the 1986 Interlakes was 250.

Throughout the school year we have been putting in many hard working hours in capturing all your memories in this yearbook. We hope in years to come you will be able to look through it and relive all your memories you had at Madison High School.
