Title

Treasured Times

As time goes by, you really don't know what's going to happen. If you're a senior, you look forward to going to college. If you're a junior, you look forward to being a senior. Sophomores are just looking forward to being upperclassmen. And freshmen just want to be left alone.

Whoever you are, you just look forward to moving on with your life. But before you know it high school will be over and maybe even forgotten. You may not have realized it while it happened but this is the time of your life to cherish. So take the memories and lock them in a chest because later on in your life you may want to take them out again and treasure them.

Treasured Moment #1: Friendship

Treasured Moment #2: Leaving

A day all seniors wait for - locker clean out before their final days of school.

Theme

Pages by: Elizabeth Foster and Kristen Vought

"Normal day, let me be aware of the treasure you are. . . . Let me not pass you by in quest of some rare and perfect tomorrow. One day I shall dig my nails into the earth, or bury my face in my pillow, or stretch myself taut, or raise my hands to the sky and want, more than all the world, your return."

--Mary Jean Iron

Treasured Memories

Senior Hall: A place where seniors. . . "think."

Elizabeth Foster and Kristen Vought are caught simply laying around during their open campus early in the morning. Perhaps they are thinking about all the things they need to do before graduation.

WHAT IS YOUR MOST TREASURED MEMORY THROUGHOUT HIGH SCHOOL?

Morgan Lebahn
--Senior

"Having to sing the Barney song on the senior benches during homecoming week my freshman year with a few other classmates."

Laurie Reynolds
--Junior

"I enjoyed going on color guard trips and performing. I remember after one of the competitions Mr. Beckler started crying because we did so bad!"

Justin Ebsen
--Sophomore

"Probably just hanging out with my friends and driving around town."

Mike Berry
--Freshman

"I don't know. . . hanging out with friends. . . just make something up and I'll pretend I said it."

Memories With Mr. Kramer

Color Guard

Chelsi Johnson, Jenny Fods, Brandy Paugh, Allyson Slaughter, Jenna Doblar are doing the guard thing!

Because this was Mr. Kramer's first year teaching, there were a lot of questions that had to be asked. His first year was great. He was happy with the marching band and how their season ended. He does things completely different from the way Mr. Beckler did. He has control and a whole new system. The end results were scores always within 5 points of Pipestone and Luverne.

Mr. Kramer likes Madison because it is a nice size community. It's close enough from and to Sioux Falls, which makes the location great. Mr. Kramer is excited for next year. The marching band is getting new tubas, more students, much better music - that only we will be playing. The students that he has talked to are excited for the next year also. He wouldn't change anything that has happened this year because the students were dedicated and ready for anything.

Banner Carriers

Debate/Student Congress

Hard Work Pays Off!

Look at all the awards that the Debate Team earned this season! Awesome job!

Debate Results:

Public Forum: Runner Up- Derek Hackett
and Kayte Abraham
Semi Finalists- Mike Stunes
and Spencer Daniels
Foreign Extemp: 2nd Place- Kayte Abraham
Oratory- Finalist- Bobby Johnson

What is Student Congress? That might be a question that runs through one's mind when they hear about it. Well, according to Mrs. Nills, Student Congress is, "a speech opportunity, sponsored by the National Forensics League (NFL), in which students write and debate student-related bills and resolutions. You can gain points from each speech that you give." The purpose of Student Congress is to "expose students to this realm of public speaking, and to build stronger speaking skills." The types of things that you do in Student Congress include, "understanding and demonstrating your knowledge of Parliamentary Procedure, and you have to have good research skills."

With Student Congress you can gain NFL points to win awards and you can use the points with other forensic activities as well. You get scored based on a one to six scale, six being the best, and if you speak for a long time in a coherent manner you may get a six. Twenty-four is the maximum amount of points that you can earn.

Debate Team

Back: Derek Hackett, Max Tucker, Mathew Wollmann, Bobby Johnson, Kayte Abraham, Jacqueline Adams, Mrs. Nills, Michael Stunes, Spencer Daniels, Marli Jones, Tonia Even, Meagan Abraham.

Student Congress Team

Student Congress Results:

At State Student Congress, Derek Hackett was awarded "Outstanding Speaker in the House" which made him first alternate for nationals. This means that he could possibly partake in the competition!

Awesome Job Derek!

Oral Interpretation

Oral Interpretation

Top Notch Coach!

Mrs. Benning flashes a dazzling smile while thinking about how well the team did this season.

Pumpkins All Around!

Pumpkin awards for the Pumpkin Sweepstakes for Nate Hoffman, Vince Mathis, Spencer Daniels

Congratulations! You're Going To State!

State Oral Interpers, (back) Kayte Abraham, Vince Mathis, Nate Hoffman, Dr. Frank Palleria, Spencer Daniels, Abby Logan, Jennifer Adams, Kelly Wilkens, Mrs. Sharon Knowlton.

Oral Interpretation is an amazing experience to express oneself through another's words. According to Mrs. Benning, "(It is) to help students with speech activities and improve comfort levels, and make students more confident in themselves."

There are several things that an individual can do in Oral Interpretation. One thing that Mrs. Benning is most partial to would be, "You should go to as many contests as possible! If you want to be good, you must recite your piece a lot! The students need to get out there and not be afraid to compete against schools like Milbank and Sioux Valley!"

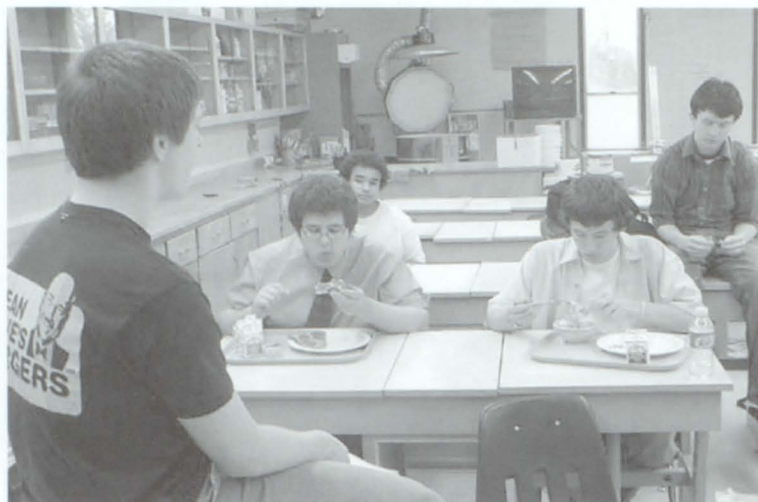

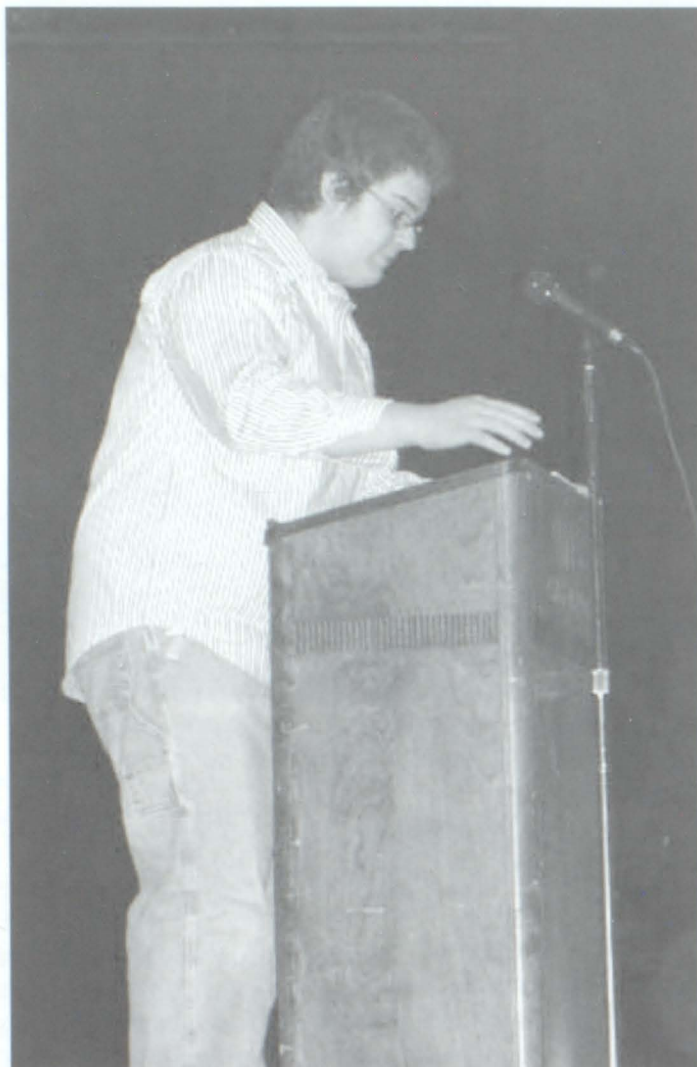

Oral Interpretation is both an individual and a team effort. The team with the most points wins a sweepstakes trophy and those team points are won by individuals within a team. Sometimes it gets difficult to have team meetings and practices because students are in multiple activities and sometimes have other obligations. The most important thing about being on the team is to be committed and ready to accept criticisms from peers.

Mrs. Benning is so thankful for everyone that helped to make this year a success. She wanted to especially thank Mr. Miller, who helped block the readers' theater, and Brett Hoffman and Brett Kearin who helped judge and listen to the student's pieces. She also has some advice for all students interested in Oral Interpretation, "Stay in the activity because this helps to improve you more. Also, pay attention to other schools involved in this activity and learn from them."

Oral Interpretation Results from state competition: Kayte Abraham- 1st Place Oratory; Vince Mathis, Spencer Daniels and Nate Hoffman - 1st Place Reader's Theater; Spencer Daniels- 1st Place Humor; Abby Logan - 1st Place Drama; Kelly Wilkens- Poetry; Abby Logan and Jennifer Adams - 1st Place Duet.

Chelsi Johnson

Tyler French

Senior, Chelsi Johnson and Junior, Tyler French were among six South Dakota high school students recognized by the S.D. Bankers Foundation and the S.D. Department of Tourism and State Development for business plans they developed. They competed against 29 students from other South Dakota high schools.

The top six competitors were invited to Pierre on February 8, for oral interviews. The finalists, their advisors, and families were invited to attend the South Dakota Bankers Foundation's reception and banquet as honored guests. Other attendees at the reception and banquet were bankers, state legislators and constitutional officers. Governor Rounds presented Chelsi and Tyler with their Runner's Up Awards. Each received a savings bond worth $100.

Tuck The Ball And Run

Stowing the ball away, Jim Farrell takes off running, followed closely by Joe Bundy.

The football season had a great opener this year, beating Dell Rapids 22-14. This was our first win in over a year, so it got us excited for the rest of the season. Then the team went down to Howard Wood Field and suffered a loss to West Central 21-63. On to Flandreau where we let the game slip out of our grasps and lost 20-26. At homecoming we went out and took it to Sioux Valley and won 34-8. Next, we went down to the Dakota Dome and beat Vermillion 14-13, that was of the best game of the year. After a long trip to Belle Fourche, we must of had jet lag because we beat them 19-7 and the Dogs were 4-2 and making a push for the playoffs. However, we fell to Harrisburg 6-42 and in the final regular season game the Bulldogs beat Lennox 13-6. We hit a brick wall when we faced up against Sisseton and lost 6-41 to end the season with a 5-4 record.

Wrestling to Perfection

Another Year To Remember

The Wrestling Dogs had a good season this year ending up with a 11-5 duel record. As a team they were over .500 in win/loss records. They finished the year with Chris McKinney and Blake Hodne both having over 30 wins on the season. There were also five young men getting over the 20 win mark: Andy Williams, Nick Dreyer, Alex Riley, Josh Lemair, and Myles Riedesel. To finish off the season, the Bulldogs sent seven wrestlers to the state tournament and four of them came home with places. For the rest of the Bulldogs, the season wasn't a complete loss. The whole team became closer over the four months together spending long hours working in the wrestling room and riding on the bus together. So all in all the season was a success.

CHEERLEADERS

Boys Basketball Squad

Back: Courtney Isakson, Ashley Pifer, Miranda Johnson, Caitlin Fawbush, and Kaitlin Habeger.

According to Courtney Isakson, a sophomore, there were many great memories from her cheerleading season. She chose to cheer for boys basketball because she liked the squad last year and had a lot of fun with her squad. She enjoyed practices the most. "I liked the practices. They were a lot of fun. We would always have fun practices because our squad got along." Although some disagree, Courtney (and most cheerleaders) say that cheerleading is a sport. "Yes. Cheerleading takes a lot of dedication and concentration as well. You build a lot of muscle with stunting, whether you're a base or a flyer. You always need to be paying attention to what's going on. If one person messes up in a stunt, the whole squad could get seriously injured." One memory Courtney has is the last game. "...it was really sad because it was the last game, and we were losing Miranda. I would change how far we got with our stunting. I wish we would have gotten our advanced stunts down." For the younger girls that wish to be a cheerleader, Courtney has this to say, "You get to know and be friends with all the girls. You have a fun time, and it is always fun, hard work but you will have a blast doing it!"

Madison Dominates In Powerlifting

The Bulldog lifters gave it their all once again this year. However, their outcome wasn't quite as good as last year. They had to settle for the runner-up position. Even in spite of this the powerlifters had another championship season. There were two individual championships, those coming from: Kent Smith (with a new school record of 785 lb. total), and Jim Farrell (with two new school records of a 445 lb. deadlift and total record of 990 lbs.). Along with the two state champs, second place finishers were: Katie Breuer, Andy Williams (school record of 300 lb. squat), Andrew Langner, Brandon Seitz, Cody Hansen (1000 lb. club), and Geoff Smith (1000 lb. club). A total of 36 lifters competed in the state powerlifting meet.

Kelsey Campbell hits an amazing volley to keep her opponent's serve in play.

Girls Tennis Team

Back: Carolyn Hunter, Caitlinn Sullivan, Molly Johnson, Kelsey Campbell, Emily Johnson, Laura Niedert. Front: Allison Niedert, Stephanie Jarrett, Tia Limmer, and Katie Beck.

According to freshman, Laura Niedert, the tennis season was a success. "We're really good as a team," she said. Some of the things that she enjoyed the most about the season were "spending time with teammates" and "getting out in the sun and being active." Her favorite tennis moment was, "the State Championship against Roosevelt. I got fourth!"

She had a great season with her younger sister Allison. "It was enjoyable to spend time with her," she said, "I like to be her role model and see her looking up to me." However there were times that made her uneasy, "(Our) Parents have to go back and forth from watching Allison and me. We shared tennis skirts, and our things got mixed up sometimes," she added. "I really hope that next year she can be my doubles partner," she included.

One thing that she thinks the team could improve upon is, "finding a better transportation than the suburban! Maybe a Ferrari..." she added jokingly. On a more serious note, she thinks that she personally could improve on practicing more during the summer, which she plans to do, to continue with strength training, and work on her spins for the ball.

She also has advice for younger girls wanting to join tennis. "It's a lot of fun. You can do anything if you put your mind to it, no matter how hard it is. Never give up, because when you give up that is when you lose."

Boys Tennis Team

Back: Caleb Vetter, Tyler French, Michael Lindsay, Andy Lauck, Nathan Janssen, Gavin Fawbush, Marc Satter, Kyle Fritz, David Kenyon, Trevor Freet, and Brad Stearns.

During this year of tennis, many exciting things happened according to Michael Lindsay, a sophomore. The team has improved a lot since last season. "The players have really stepped up their game, and we're able to compete with 'AA' schools." There are some things that Michael feels the team could improve on, "I think our team could work on consistency and our level of play." He also thinks that he personally could "practice more" and "play with other people" more often.

He also has some advice for younger boys thinking about joining tennis, "Practice a lot, use the lobster machines (machines that feeds tennis balls), and take as many private lessons as they can."

He has his favorite times in tennis, too. "I like the bus rides, it gives players time to bond. I like playing doubles more than singles." He likes to have another person with him, to give him directions on the court.

All in all, the boys had a successful year.

Maui, Here We Come

Fifteen Boy Scouts from Madison's Troop 5 earned a trip of lifetime. After a lot of hard work and fund raising, these Boy Scouts, along with nine adults, boarded a plane and flew to Maui, Hawaii. They spent many hours delivering phone books, selling Christmas wreaths, having pancake breakfasts, raffling a quilt, etc., to earn money for the trip. Each scout and adult also needed to become a swimmer and pass the Boy Scouts of America Snorkeling test.

In March, over spring break, Troop 5 flew off to Maui. They spent a lot of time in the sun - snorkeling, sailing, boogie boarding, body surfing and just hanging out. They learned about Hawaiian culture from visiting a traditional canoe club, where Uncle Gabby answered all their questions about Hawaiian culture. The group also toured a dormant volcano and attended a Luau (hula & feast).

When asked what motivated him to take this trip, Justin Ebsen said, "I wanted to see a hula dancer and swim in the ocean."

A Helping Hand

Mr. Hodgen hands off a wooden block to Derek Hackett, while Eric Lee watches before starting their lab.

Whoops!

Lindsey Lee and Kristin Miller are in a state of shock after breaking a graduated cylinder.

Physics

Use Your Brain, Not Your Boat

Taught by Mr. Hodgen, Physics explores the world of mathematics and logic reasoning. From issues involving velocity and gravity, to figuring out the buoyancy of an object, students in this class must often think outside of the box to solve the problem.

Along with learning the world of mathematics and logic reasoning, these students use brain teasers daily to get their minds really going. These brain teasers make them look at problems in a different perspective. Solving problems from how to make multiple squares with only a limited amount of sticks to whom lives in which house, with what animal, in what order; proves to be no problem for these students when they receive help from fellow classmates.

Even though these students must study hard, listen closely to lectures, and do numerous practice math problems, they do get a break from it all in labs. Well, not quite! These labs make them prove that they can put their skills in physics to use.

Along with labs the students must do constructive project too. Including cardboard boat racing. Cardboard boat races are done at the end of the year when the students are studying buoyancy and pressure. Students may use as much cardboard that they can find, duct tape, glue, and a paint or varnish to waterproof the cardboard. The challenge is that they only have four days of class time to construct the boat. This isn't an easy task considering you must have a plan to keep a cardboard boat afloat with two to three people in the boat. Meaning that they must calculate the amount of weight that they will be displacing on the water, ranging anywhere from 350 lbs. to 450 lbs. This event then takes place at Lake Herman the last week of school.

Once the students finish this course they have the satisfaction of knowing that they now know the world of physics!

Into The World of Labs

When we started looking at classes to research, we thought, 'what class would be the most fun to do?' When we came across this class it caught our eyes. Mrs. Unterbrunner teaches Human Biology and when we got into the classroom they were doing a taste-testing lab and dissecting lamb eyeballs. We asked Mrs. Unterbrunner what she liked most about this class and she said "Besides the class topic, the variety of different personalities."

Mrs. Unterbrunner had a class full of different types of people. It ranged from Ben Bundy and the kids he hangs out with to Chantel Spurgin and her friends. The one thing that Mrs. Unterbrunner is going to miss about the kids in her class is their enthusiasm to learn. She also said that you never know if they are going to be taking one of her class again, and if they don't she will always see them in the hallways.

When asked if there were any funny memories she giggled and said, "Yes, ones related to the dissection of the body organs such as the eyes, hearts and brains." Looking though out that classroom full of students we tried to pick out who the funny ones were. We asked Mrs. Unterbrunner who was the funniest person in the class, but she couldn't just pick one. So we turned the question around and asked who the funniest people are in the class and she said, "Ben Bundy and his fellow students."

Choices In The Medical Field

Health Occupations students learn all about medical terms, anatomy, and clinical rotations at the hospital. Then, after that is all finished they get a chance to work in any area they choose. Most of the students who take this class, take it because they plan on working in the medical field. Often, if the student is unsure on exactly what they want to do in the health field, this class will help them decide. The students also get a chance to check vital signs such as blood pressure, temperature, heart beats, pulse, and breathing rates. Some of the students also had the chance to observe surgery and Cassandra Breuer said "It was a great experience."

What's your favorite thing about this class?

"You get to explore many different areas and you get to go on many field trips"

Cassandra Breuer

"The rotations because you get to follow around doctors and see different fields."

Each project is worth a designated number of points. Generally they range from twenty-five to two-hundred. Every student is required to have a total of three-hundred points by the end of the trimester.

As in any class, students acquire new skills, whether it is realized or not. New skills that students say they learned include making their own patterns, being able to read patterns, serging, knitting and refreshing older skills. Students said that they enjoy the class because they have a say in what type of projects they will complete.

Colophon

The 2006 yearbook was produced by a staff of eighteen students and one advisor using Windows XP and PageMaker 7.0. The books were printed by the Leader Printing Company and the press run was 230 books of 116 pages each. Books were sold for $37, $40, and $50. Kristie Olson was the advisor. Special thanks to Jill Johnson for sharing her photos and all others who helped with the production.

Treasured Times

Madison's #1 Fan

Hands down (or up) Charla Callahan is the Bulldog's #1 Fan. Here she cheers on Corey Fjerstad, Joe Bundy, Justin Jaspers, Blake Hodne, Erik Janke, Matt McCarthy and Chris McKinney.

Traditions To Remember

Certain volleyball traditions will be carried on for years to come.

It's The Little Things We Remember

Heather Williams makes sure Theresa Knapp is ready for her gymnastic routine.

It's Not What We Planned

Gavin Fawbush and Justin Jaspers find out that things don't always work out the way we expect.

Season Memories

Playing crucial games together makes memories for Bria Janke, Marli Thurow, Calli Nugent and Kristin Larsen.

Working For Perfection

The Spirit of Madison marching band works hard in every competition for the perfect score.

We Will Remember The Good Times

Third Place State "A" Boy's Cross Country Team: Coach Cordts, Zach Kontz, Justin Jaspers, Jordan Walker, Tyler Patch, Jarrell Freitag, Trevor Johnson, Justin Schrepel, and Devon Berkness.

Do You Remember . . .

When we actually thought cardboard boats would float? Physic students Kelsey Campbell, Eric Lee, Katelyn Karlson, Kristin Miller, Lindsey Lee, Josh Lemair, Jim Farrell and Justin Jaspers will remember.
