Title 1

No Time To Waste!

What Will You Do With Your Time?

Original Poem by an MHS Student

There's no time to waste!
You get only one chance to live.
There's no going back
Or starting over.
How will you live?
What will you choose?
Will you be hot-
Live with passion that boils over?
Will you be lukewarm-
Never to know your full potential?
Will you be cold-
Backing out on life too afraid
To meet life with full force?

But there's the fear of failing
And what others might think
These things that shouldn't be feared,
But hold us when we could be free
To fully live life
To know yourself, nature,
God, and those around you.
When times about to run out
Will you look back with regret
For lost opportunities
Because life was spent
Going through the motions,
Lacking energy and passion.

Will you wish you'd been more
Or done more? Like love deeper
And opened yourself up to yourself
And the rest of the world.
Wouldn't it be better
To look back and see
All your dreams fulfilled.
You lived greater than perceived,
Went above and beyond
In everything you did,
Treated each moment as the last,
Never failing
to hope, love, and have faith.

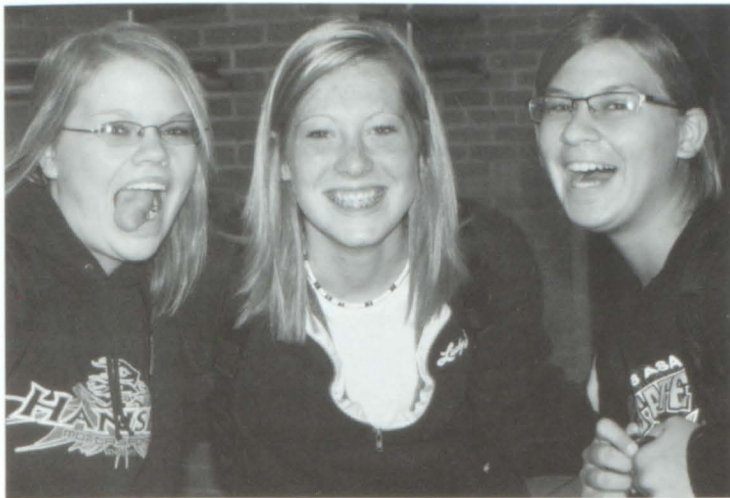

Will you be able to say
You cared deeply and sang loudly,
Discovered your purpose,
Knew the one and only you.
What would you do
If you could not fall
But could fly to great heights
Only heaven and the stars to meet?
Would you give up
Your stubborn ways and selfishness.
Will you put an end to life's pollutants
That pull you down
And distract from life's beauty?

Right now time is moving,
Each moment you'll never get back.
Live them! Love them!
Leave nothing to regret!
Because with life you have
No Time To Waste!

Dare to be Different!

Coronation 2008

The theme of Coronation 2008 was "Dare to be Different." Student Council Advisor, Mrs. Gonyo said, "It was clear the student council wanted to try some new ideas, so we thought, why not be different? The theme emerged from that thought." The stage was decorated for this unusual theme with a giant stripe down the middle; separating a wild side packed with random props and an elegant side for the homecoming royalty. Masters of Ceremony, SaRena Freet and Josh Vosberg, entertained the crowd with jokes and wild costumes that went along with the homecoming week themes. Stephanie Jarrett and Kiana Hawkes performed songs for the crowd and both brought them to their feet. Prior to Coronation, a slideshow was shown to introduce the homecoming royalty and the student body voted on their homecoming queen and king. Last years King and Queen, Ben Bundy and Breanne Manthey, opened a giant envelope and placed the crowns on the 2008 winners, Julian Freitag and Marli Jones. The student council showered the crowd with candy during a unique candy parade. A slideshow of the student body was shown as well as a senior video. After all events everyone was invited to join the cheerleaders in the parking lot for the burning of the M.

Dare to be Different

Homecoming 2008 - Madison vs. Dell Rapids

The students celebrated the best homecoming in years. The theme was "Dare to be Different!" The students tried many different activities that were not a part of tradition.

The dress-up days were a big hit. On Monday the halls were filled with opposites. Tuesday brought work uniforms and dream job outfits for career day. Wednesday was ESPN day and students dressed in sports gear. Thursday had a unique theme with Hero vs. Villain day. Finally Friday brought the traditional Bulldog Pride Day.

The week was full of new and exciting activities. Monday had a Hall decorating contest that the freshman class won. Coronation was on Monday night and the Burning of the "M" followed. On Tuesday, the students had fun drawing with sidewalk chalk in the parking lot. Wednesday had a short pep rally of fall sports hosted by the king and queen. Thursday night was full of sporting events to go see. Finally on Friday was Spirit Day. The students were bused to Baughman Park where there was student-staff softball, powder-puff football, National Guard inflatables, pep rally, face painting, and tie dying.

Friday night concluded homecoming week with the football game.

Live, Laugh, Love

Between dragging into school at 8:15 AM and jumping through the doors at 3:12 PM, there are a lot of emotions that go on during school. Going into some classes the only emotion you feel is complete and total boredom, but when you get into classes that are exciting, you can feel just about anything. Whether it's whipping it up in Mrs. Goldammer's Gourmet Cooking class or stimulating your creative side in Mrs. Evans' Art Class, you'll always have fun.

Some students may say that Mrs. Unterbrunner's Zoology class is the best because of the many dissections. Another class that students enjoy is Strength Training. Here students get the opportunity to build up strength and get rid of any stress or anger. There are many students that enjoy the morning, lunch and after school just because they are able to socialize with classmates. They get the opportunity to be who they are, hanging and just having fun.

Nintendo Time

Wii Love To Dance!

Fall Formal was held on November 15th from 8-11:30. All grades were invited to the Dakota Prairie Playhouse. This year was all about gaming. Future Business Leaders of America designed cardboard cutouts of Mario, Luigi, Princess Peach, Bowser, and other famous characters. A race track led the way to the entrance of the dance with Dance Dance Revolution arrows that pointed toward many students dancing the night away. The room was complete with a power-up station for punch. There were one hundred and twenty-one couples and forty individuals in attendance. Black's Studio was invited again to take pictures.

Unmask the Night

Midnight Masquerade

This year, as you may know, Midnight Masquerade was the theme for prom. The prom committee came up with original and creative ideas. When the couples checked in, all of the girls got masks to match their dresses and all the guys got masks too. There were ones with feathers, sparkles, and beads. They were wonderful and everyone loved them. The ballroom was decorated with the colors purple, silver and black. There were a lot of balloons and masks everywhere. Everyone danced until the clock struck twelve. After Prom began with a magician and delicious food. When the after party began, there were casino games and a cash machine. When the time came, the hypnotist was called to the stage. It was the highlight of the night. Tonia Evan was a Martian queen and Josh Vosberg was a Chinese emperor. Katie Mackenzie was convinced she had an extra finger and Annie Jones was missing her bellybutton. There were laughs and memories made that night.

Marching To Our Own Beat!

The Spirit of Madison Marching Band competed in several competitions this school year. The band rehearsed a strenuous 2 weeks in the summer to prepare for these upcoming events. They traveled to competitions located in Marshall, MN, Madison, Luverne, MN, Brandon, Sioux Falls, and Orange City, IA. They competed in Class AA and received an Outstanding Drum Major Award. The band then traveled to Kansas City, MO, in October to compete in the Festival of Champions and earned 1st place along with another Outstanding Drum Major Award. After competition the band then had time to relax and have some fun. They then headed to Worlds of Fun where they rode roller-coasters and ate junk food. All in all the trip was a success and the band will now prepare for the upcoming year!

Time to Talk

Speaking What's On Their Mind

Student Congress, Oral Interpretation, and Debate are three organizations that involve a variety of knowledge and presentation skills. In other words, they're all about talking. Oral Interpretation is the communication of literature. Poetry, serious prose, serious drama, humorous, oratory, duet, and reader's theatre are the seven different categories. Debate is persuasively arguing for one side of resolution. These resolutions change at the beginning of each month. Student Congress is congressional debate which involves the understanding of the legislative process and parliamentary procedures. Student Congress, Oral Interpretation, and Debate are sponsored by the National Forensic League and members for each speech earn points and national credit.

Madison Student Congress had five members this year. Mrs. Nills was the advisor. They attended East River Congress in Brookings.

The Debate team was made up of nine members. They participated in several competitions including Karl E. Mundt Forensic Invitational Tournament in town. Madison had four members in debate attend the state competition. These four students were Azmon Meyer, Breanna Rowland, Meagan Abraham, and Jacqueline Adams. Meagan and Jacqueline were quarter finalist. One topic for debate was, "Resolved: that on balance social networking web sites have had a positive impact on the United States."

Oral Interpers were seen not only at competitions but at school events. A few classes were also privileged to be a part of their practices. There were eight people involved this year. Arielle Cole, Meagan Abraham, and Jacqueline Adams preformed a reader's theatre called "Deep Thoughts" by Jack Handey.

Meagan Abraham

"My favorite memory from oral interpretation is going to state, hanging out, getting to know everyone involved really well, and watching Rocky Horror Picture Show."

One-Act Play

Just A Stage He's Going Through

This year's One-Act play was titled "Just A Stage He's Going Through." The play was about Dwight, a man who wakes up and finds himself on center stage. During the performance he is faced with a series of characters including his mother played by Scott Walther and the bus stop group made up of Joshua Vosberg, Emily Caron, Katie Stemper, and Stephanie Jarrett. These characters along with Dr. Sigmund Freud played by Kyle Fritz confuse David Kenyon's character Dwight. The One-Act cast and crew competed in Sioux Falls and received a superior rating in Class A.

Spring Play: The Trial of the Big Bad Wolf

As I entered the gymnasium to photograph the preparatory make-up, it was rather surprising to see such a calm and collected group of young individuals. Mr. Miller obviously did a grand job once again of preparing his actors and actresses. No one was too extremely nervous or at least not to a noticeable degree. As they danced, sang, laughed, and got ready for the premiere show it was quite apparent they were all ready for the big night. When the curtains parted and the show began, every line was nailed and performed to perfection. Even when not in the spotlight, the actors and actresses stayed in character with their body and facial expressions. It felt like a trip back into the younger days of my life as I watched the theatrical performance. The minimal entrance fee was a complete understatement for the quality of the show. Mr. Miller, and his assistant Mrs. Brown, looked to be very pleased and I think Mr. Miller will be proud looking back on his 32 year career of directing and be proud from start to finish. To the young men and women he directed, he was more than just a teacher or a face, but a part of their lives forever. Thank you for all your hard work and dedication Mr. Miller. It was a privilege to anyone who had the opportunity to enjoy one of your marvelous productions.

Leaders of Our Time

Get The Edge!

Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) had a fantastic year. Advisor, Mrs. Olson, and four members attended the State Fall Leadership Conference and learned about different ways to make the chapter better. They also put on the annual fall formal and purchased Angel Tree gifts as a service project. The biggest achievements were made at State Spring Leadership Conference. Every member completed three tests on various business topics. Alex Bordewyk, Jessica Olinger, and Tyler Brunsvig also participated in a Spelling Bee. Aaron Olson, Alex Bordewyk, and Carlye Williams all received first place plaques. Madison also received the top four places in Accounting II. Overall nine members placed in the top ten on one of their tests. Madison also participated in the campaign process. Randi Hackett gave a nomination speech and Brittany Williams was in charge of caucusing for Carlye Williams who was elected SD FBLA Treasurer for 2009-2010. Mrs. Olson, Aaron Olson, Alex Bordewyk, Carlye Williams, and Ryan McIntyre attended Nationals during June in Anaheim, California. Carlye Williams placed 4th in the nation in the Accounting II contest.

Youth Business Adventure of South Dakota (YBA)

Six MHS students, interested in business and entrepreneurship, attended South Dakota's Youth Business Adventure held in Spearfish and Madison. YBA is designed to help high school students and teachers understand the American private enterprise system and how business operates within it. YBA is sponsored by the South Dakota Chamber of Commerce and Industry. The week is planned and implemented by business people for the purpose of opening the world of business opportunities to South Dakota's young people.

Students were divided into companies. Each company developed and marketed a product to compete against the other companies.

Summer Time

School Activities Outside of School

Even when school is out for the summer, not all high school students put away their high school subjects and activities. Students at Madison High School stay very busy all summer with a variety of academic, athletic and organizational activities.

In early June, Megan Bordewyk, Brittany Williams, Carlye Williams, and SaRena Freet attended the American Legion Auxiliary Girls State in Vermillion, and Alex Bordewyk, Sam Wilkens and Aaron Olson attended the American Legion Boys State in Aberdeen. Boys and Girls State is designed to better help youth understand and appreciate the American system of government and way of life including the rights and responsibilities of citizenship. The American Legion wants the youth of South Dakota to understand the problems of government as well as how it functions. MHS also sent six students to attend the Youth Business Adventure of South Dakota in Spearfish and Madison. (See inset on page 40)

The last week of June saw Carlye Williams, Alex Bordewyk, Ryan McIntyre, Aaron Olson and Mrs. Olson fly off to Anaheim, CA, to attend the FBLA National Conference. All four students tested in various areas of business. Carlye Williams competed in the Accounting II test and placed 4th in the nation. The trip was not all work. The group went to Santa Monica Pier and Disneyland.

In July, local FFA officers held their annual summer officers retreat at Lake Madison. Participants reviewed the roles of their offices and planned activities for the upcoming school year. Some of the group activities helped the officers get to know each other better.

Marching Band held their annual two week camp to get ready for the fall Marching Band competitions. Hard work, sweat and fun were part of marching band camp.

In the area of athletics, many of our Bulldogs attended camps specialized for their sport. Team camps give the athletes a special time to bond with each other and prepare for their upcoming seasons.

So if you think school is over and forgotten in the summer time, think again.

Time on the Field

Football Record : 1-7

The boy's had a tough season; every team they played was ranked and too many players battled injuries. But you won't hear any complaints from them. The last win of the season was worth all the hard work and dedication put in. The seniors stayed positive the whole season and encouraged the younger players to continue playing hard and keep their heads up. The coaches kept working hard too, and in the end, although the scoreboards never showed it, many of the players still felt it was a successful season. Many young players had opportunities to play and contribute their worth to the team. A player on the team said, "This season built character and showed me that although you may work hard, you don't always get what you want, but I will never forget playing with this great group of guys. The last win was good enough for me and I would do it all over again if I could."

Passing the Ball Up

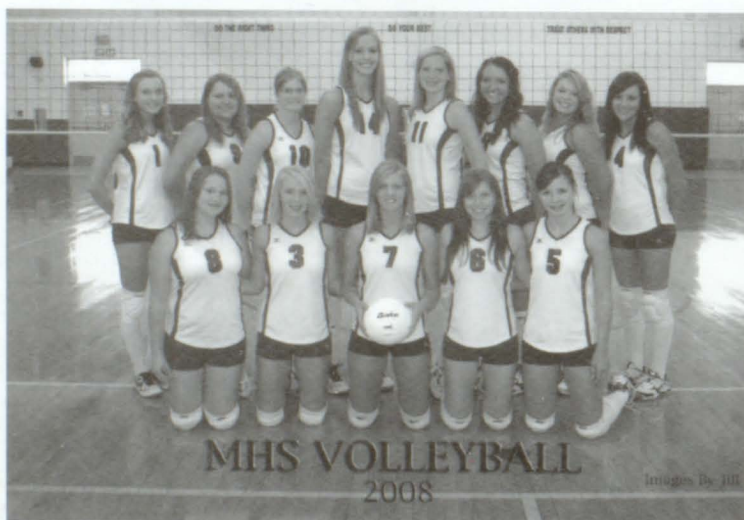

Lindsay Rook passes the ball as Amanda Dailing watches.

This year's volleyball team had a successful season. The beginning of the year brought a change with a new coach, Wendy Nelson. The year was ended with the girls being District Champions and taking a loss at Regions to Sioux Falls Christian. The court held many senior leaders this year. All the girls worked really hard and tried to control the ups and downs in the season. Giving advice to next year's team, Amanda Dailing said, "Teamwork is the key to success. We had a successful season. I wish the best to next years team."

Bulldog Golf

A Good Time For the Boy's Golf Team

It was a good season this year with Sean Campbell leading the team with a 4th place finish and Sam Wilkens and Micheal Sullivan almost making the cut. Justin Olson played well all year placing 4th in the Madison Invite with a 78, and winning the Milbank Invitational in a two-hole playoff. Unfortunately, Justin could not compete in the state tournament. Sean Campbell found a way to play the "Best rounds of his career" at the state tournament getting a 78 the first day and a 79 the next day. He will also be playing in the All-Star Tournament in Aberdeen this summer.

The 08-09 season was another great year for building the foundation of Bulldog Wrestling. The wrestling team ended their season with a 51 percent win/loss record. The Bulldogs also had a 13-11 dual record. This year they qualified six wrestlers to go to the state tournament, among those six, there were three place winners. Andy Williams, Tyler Converse, Jacob Aus, Zach Ordal, and Matt Goth were this year's recipients of the 20 Win Club and Mason Riedesel was the lone recipient of the 30 Win Club. Mason was also the 08-09 MVP. He scored 122 points for the team with only 6 points against. Overall the Bulldogs had a great season and they are looking forward to next year.

"The 2008-09 season was a new adventure because we had a young team and lost some valuable gymnasts. However, because we had strong leaders and good work ethic we were able to complete a successful season and continue our streak."

15 and Still Going Strong

Over the past fifteen years, the Madison High School gymnasts have collected many trophies. The most valuable being their 15 consecutive state championships, which is a state record and national record. This year's state competition was held in Rapid City on February 20th through the 21st. Their dual win loss record is 4:1, including invitationals and triangulars, the record is 37:9. The 2008-2009 letter winners were Mara Riedel, Kaitlyn Walker, Jessica Strom, Kaylee Grayson, Kara Pederson, Laura Blom, Danielle Bloom, Lexi Finck, Shannon Winthers, Preslee Jorgenson, and Ashley Schwebach. There were three seniors on the team this year, Mara Riedel, Alica Meier, and Marli Jones. Their experience on the team and their leadership will be greatly missed, along with being good role models for the younger girls.

When asked what she liked best about joining the 2008-2009 team Marli Jones replied, "I made a lot of new friends I normally wouldn't if I hadn't gone out for it."

State Champions

Easy As 3..2..1

At the start of the 2008-2009 season, the Bulldogs came out hungry to win. After winning the first ten games of the season, the Bulldogs suffered their first loss of the season. After that, they went on to beat every opponent they came up against, except for one. They had one goal in mind; to win a state title. After three consecutive trips to the State 'A' Basketball Tournament, they finally got it. Placing third during their first trip in 2007 and second in 2008, after an upsetting loss against Platte-Geddes in the championship game. The Bulldogs found themselves in the same situation again in 2009. Only this time, they weren't going down without a fight. As the players looked up at the score board when the final buzzer rang, they found themselves champions! It was the first state title in 45 years. For the seniors, this is what they have worked for all season. For the other players, this is only the beginning of an era.

A Season of Close Games

The Lady Dog's did exceptionally well this season, winning districts and several close games. You could never count them out of any game no matter what the score was at halftime. Many games came down to the final few seconds, making their team quote "What's Next" a suitable line. The new faces will definitely be an even bigger factor next year, and the seniors held true with their leadership. The courage and resilience shown by this team will be remembered by all of those who watched them compete.

Art Is Essential

"The aim of art is to represent not the outward appearance of things, but their inward significance." ~ Aristotle

No matter which one you're taking, Art is an exceptional class. Out of all the stress students endure during their high school years, they need a place where they can express themselves, and the art room is the best place for that. Several students were asked the following questions:

Do you feel like art helps you to express yourself in ways you can't normally during the day and why? What is your favorite thing to do in art?

Here are a few of their responses:

"Yes because you get to be creative without looking up the answers in a book. Clay is my favorite thing to do for sure!" - Casey Byrd

"Yes because even in choir, you're told what to say but in Art 4, everything is independent. I like to do charcoal." - Marli Jones

"Yes because it's a class where the teacher doesn't expect you to be better than what you are and I prefer drawing." - Danielle Splonskowski

"Yes because the teacher doesn't put limits on the projects. Drawing is my favorite." -Lacey Roth

"Yeah! It helps me to get my mind off other things. I like pencil drawing." - Zach Kooiker

"Yes because if you try to express yourself in other classes the teacher yells at you, plus its fun. I like drawing." - Beth Henry

Thomas Merton once said, "Art enables us to find ourselves and lose ourselves at the same time." Students find themselves in a sense that they explore all the different types of art and are able to find what best suits them and what they like. They lose themselves in the creativeness that is art. Art is and always will be a vital subject in modern schools.
