Let the Games Begin!

USA!

Showing Some School Pride

Mr. Shaw waves his pom-poms as Mr. Fritz crosses the finish line. Katie Bergheim enjoys the show. The teachers participated in the Friday pep rally for the football team. The male teachers had to run across the gym, put on a cheerleading uniform, and run back. The female teachers had to do the same with a football helmet and pads. Mr. Shaw got into true Homecoming spirit, cheering on his teammates.

Hallway Decorations

The Juniors went with a USA theme for their hallway. All grades decorated their respective hallways the weekend before Homecoming week.

Jumping to Victory

Claire Stoller and Katie Bergheim try their luck at FBLA's booth, potato sack racing on the Sunday before Homecoming.

MHS decided to change up the Homecoming festivities for 2016. Friday activities were moved to the Sunday before Homecoming week. The evening was kicked off with the Jim Cordts 5K Run, while the community could enjoy booths set up by different MHS clubs. Powderpuff football games followed, finishing up the night. The cheerleaders led pep rallies each morning to honor the different fall sports.

Dizzying Homecoming Activities

Brock Minnaert and Lily Wolff giggle at a dizzy Mr. Liesinger; the cheerleaders led themed pep rallies at the beginning of each day of homecoming week. The students and teachers took part in a game in which the participant had to spin around on a golf club and then retrieve a bandana at the other end of the stage.

A Message From the King

Cade Bruna, this year's Homecoming king left the following message for all future MHS Bulldogs: "The most successful people in this world are most certainly the ones who make themselves stand out from everyone else. Becoming the Homecoming king as well as all of my other achievements in life have happened because I haven't been afraid to express myself the way I want to. I encourage everyone to stop caring what other people think and to start living for themselves." After high school, Cade plans on attending SDSU to study in the field of Music Education and we wish him the best of luck!

A Message From the Queen

Kyla Kasuske, this year's Homecoming Queen left the following message for all current and future Madison High School Bulldogs: "The main things that have helped me succeed in high school were my family and time management skills. High school was always super busy, and using my time wisely was important. My advice for high schoolers is to always be yourself. It's easy to be swayed by peers, but those who truly care will accept you. My best memories are being a part of sports teams. There were endless team meals and I made some great friends." After high school, Kyla plans on attending Augustana University to major in Exercise Science and someday become a Physical Therapist. We wish Kyla the best of luck in her bright and promising future!

Sarah Perez Receives 2017 South Dakota ProStart Educator Excellence Award

The South Dakota Retailers Association announced that Sarah Perez, Instructor for Madison Central High School in Madison, South Dakota, has been honored with the 2017 South Dakota ProStart Educator Excellence Award.

The ProStart Educator Excellence Award recognizes an exceptional ProStart educator from every state. ProStart is a nationwide two-year program for high school students that provides vital training skills for students so they are prepared to enter South Dakota's hospitality workforce.

"I am very humbled to receive this honor," said Perez. "South Dakota has wonderful ProStart teachers who are always willing to lend a hand if help is needed and offer ideas and suggestions for helping improve our programs. I am fortunate to work with such wonderful teachers who have helped to shape me into the ProStart educator I am today."

Perez is in her seventh year as a ProStart Instructor. South Dakota Retailers Association Prostart Coordinator Seanna Regynski says she was the clear choice for the 2017 South Dakota ProStart Educator Excellence Award based on her passion for the ProStart program, her excellence in the classroom and her commitment to students.

New Environmental Club

A new club this year at Madison High School was the Environmental club. The club met several times during the year. For a final project the club went with Mrs. Materese's 4th grade class out to Lake Herman to help clean up the park.

Member Cayden Eliason said, "The Environmental Club enjoyed a warm, spring day helping Mrs. Materese's 4th grade class clean up Lake Herman. The park directors asked the 4th graders to clean up sticks and garbage before their 'free admission' day and the Environmental Club asked if they could assist. Both parties had a wonderful time!"

This Just Isn't Working Out

A very demanding Station Director, Bobbi (Anne Knofczynski) is never happy with the outcome of the "Frank Grayson: Private Eye" radio show.

Los Angeles, 1939

Notes From the Director:

Our "radio show" is a 1930's, murder-mystery, comedy. We are performing it as a radio show and making our own sound effects as we go! Out of 70 sound cues, only a small handful are pre-recorded sounds. The play is in the style of the noir mystery radio shows that were popular in the 1930s and 1940s. The action begins as the actors and producers of the "Bloom Radio Station" record a scene from the hit radio show "Frank Grayson: Private Eye". After the recording is over, Steve Powell, who plays Frank Grayson on the show, narrates a real-life adventure as it is happening to him. Steve has a habit of imagining his life as if it really were a radio show, and often finds himself going into his "Frank Grayson Private Eye" radio character, much to the confusion of the people he meets. Enjoy the show!

Keep on Workin'

Ag Structures & Projects

Precision is Key

Tim Huth (above) works on measuring a board so that it will be just the right size for his project. While woodworking, it is very important that all of the boards are cut to precisely the right measurement so that everything will fit together perfectly. For his project, Tim made a very nice two person bench.

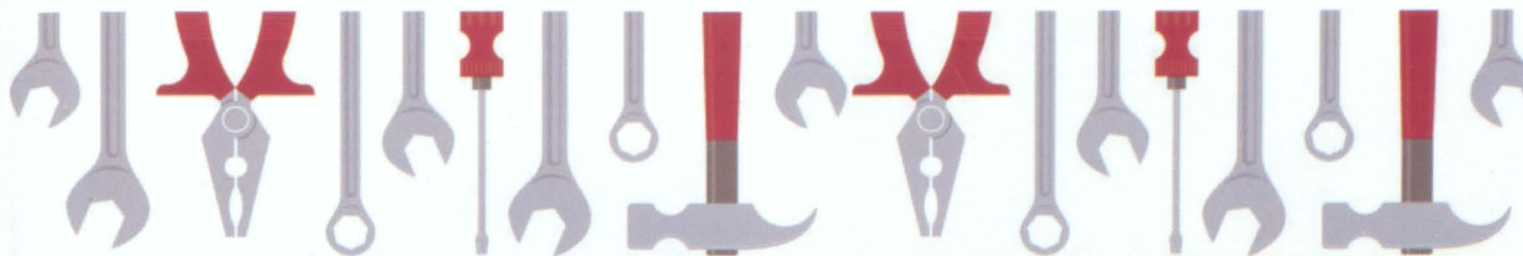

Baby Bottom Smooth

Landon Lentsch (top left) uses the belt sander to smooth out a board for his project. Using the knowledge that he learned in class, he knows that sanding will give his project a much cleaner finish.

Art in AG!

Brady Christiansen (left) works on constructing a sea otter out of pipe cleaners for his last Wildlife and Fisheries assignment. Although it may seem like an easy task, Brady will assure you that making both his sea otter and killer whale was not as easy as it looks. Good thing he had help from Elsa Leighton!

Inspection Time!

Helpful Helpers

Nick Andresen (left), Ally Lembcke, and Stormy Mette all take a break from helping Nikki Peters stain her doghouse to pose for a picture. After all three of them had finished their individual projects, Mr. Fritz had (as he likes to call it) volun-told them to help Nikki finish staining her doghouse. In the end, they all did a very good job and now the project looks great thanks to their help!

Last Minute Touch-Ups

Oakley Denne works on some last minute touch-ups on the last day of class work time to finish up his project. Although its not shown, Oakley included some really cool LED lights into his project that really make it stand out!

Preparing to Launch

David Sanchez (above) and Eli Gerry (below) both put their rockets on the launch pad and connect the rocket to the launch button.

Rocket Time!

Wiatt Hively and Bailey Mennis both hold their rockets while waiting for their turn to launch. Each student was given a rocket kit and required to build and construct the rocket. If they built it correctly, their rocket should take off correctly.

Preparing the Rocket

David Sanchez (left), Tyler Salmen, and Jonathon FlyingHorse all make the tough decision between putting a full charge or half charge rocket engine.

Blast Off!

Class Motto: "My mission in life is not merely to survive, but to thrive, and to do so with some passion, some compassion, some humor, and some style." ---Maya Angelou

"Oh, The Places We'll Go"

Olivia Boldt and Cade Bruna entertain the audience with a humorous message from the past and for the future of the graduating class.

"Let's Go Crazy"

Addressing her classmates and the graduation audience, Claire Stoller encourages everyone to go crazy in the future.

Graduation Celebration!

The whole graduating Class of 2017 enjoys some confetti and hat-tossing to celebrate the end of the graduation ceremonies and end of their high school days.

A New Madison Graduate

Superintendent Joel Jorgenson moves Adam Peak's tassel to signify that he is now a Madison High School Graduate.

Honor Students

Our Mission in Life

Graduating Class of 2017

Congratulations, Lexi!

Another Madison High School Alumni

Jeffery Gulbranson becomes a Madison Alumni after receiving his diploma from school board president, Tom Farrell while principal Adam Shaw smiles on.

"No Matter Where You Are"

Dress It Up

Lacey Fedeler goes with a flower motif for her cap and Cayden Eliason shows her approval.

Colophon

The 2017 Bulldog was produced by the Yearbook Staff of Ania Salcedo, Jessi Giles, Jenni Giles, Shania Schwebach, Claire Stoller, Kyla Kasuske, and Nikki Peters using Adobe InDesign CS3 Version 5.0.3.

The books were printed by the Leader Printing Company with a press run of 75 books with 104 pages each. Books were sold for $60.

Kristie Olson was the yearbook advisor and Nikki Peters was the student editor.

Special thanks to Nancy Kasuske, Karen Giles, Kim Dirks, Shanley Dorris, Jen Richards, Sue Warns, and SDPB for sharing their photos.

Be Bold, Be Gold

Jack Healy's Hour of Smiles

In the spring play "Annie," Parker Lee plays Jimmy Johnson, a ventriloquist whose dummy, Wacky (Kaden Krusemark) always has something funny to say.

One Last Performance

Senior band members (left) Ella Graham, Heidi Fods, and Garrett Jankord play their parts in the graduation band selection "The Great Steamboat Race."

What's Next?

Kaitlyn Meadows contemplates what she should do next in Ag class - finish projects or study for finals?

All-Around Gymnastic Champion!

Jenni Giles takes the top platform after receiving the most points in the State "A" All-Around Gymnastic Competition. Jenni also won the Floor and Vault events.
